Nineteenth-Century African American Speeches in Britain and Ireland Hannah-Rose Murray, Celeste-Marie Bernier, 2024-03-31 This is the first anthology of eighty speeches by forty two world famous and under researched African American freedom fighters liberators and human rights campaigners living and working in Scotland Ireland Wales and England in the nineteenth century Their pioneering and revolutionary works are supported by an in depth introductory essay author biographies scholarly annotations and detailed bibliographies All these human rights orators testify to their lifelong fight for freedom across their radical and revolutionary works All their lives they warred against the sufferings and horrors of enslavement as a centuries old cursed institution Words are weapons in their fight for Black liberation Across their life s works they all protested against the rise of the spirit of slavery in white supremacist and white racist US and British transatlantic societies

The European left and the financial crisis Michael Holmes, Knut Roder, 2019-08-27 This timely collection addresses key questions including How did political parties from the Left respond to the crisis What does the crisis mean for the relationship between the Left and European Integration and what does it mean for socialism as an economic political and social project

Legacies of the Surveillance State Clíodhna Pierce, 2025-02-19 In an age of invasive technology and mass data collection how can we understand the true impact of surveillance on our lives and communities Legacies of the Surveillance State offers a chilling exploration of two historical surveillance societies East Germany and Northern Ireland during the 1970s and 1980s to provide a unique perspective on the human cost of surveillance Clíodhna Pierce delves into the chilling similarities in surveillance tactics used by these ideologically opposed regimes revealing the profound and lasting consequences for those living under constant scrutiny Through a comparative analysis and personal testimonies from those who lived through it Pierce uncovers the mechanisms of control the manipulation of information and the chilling effects on individual liberties and community cohesion This book is a powerful reminder of the importance of vigilance in protecting our freedoms and a must read for anyone concerned about the growing reach of surveillance in our modern world It will appeal to scholars and students of surveillance studies sociology history political science policing and criminology security studies and science and technology studies

Strained Peace: Northern Ireland from Good Friday to Brexit Amanda Hall, 2024-09-30 As the United Kingdom continues to grapple with the aftermath of Brexit one corner of the Union has remained caught in the crosshairs Northern Ireland has been the subject of renewed scrutiny since 2016 as efforts to leave the European Union come up against the terms of the Good Friday Agreement and threaten the region s hard won peace The reasons for these challenges can be traced back to the Agreement itself as the negotiated settlement and its immediate aftermath set in place a strained peace This book examines the function and dysfunction of peace after 1998 to explain why its endurance cannot be taken for granted Strained peace stands apart from the traditional peace violence binary Structures of conflict and patterns of division are reiterated in the structures of peace Tensions might relax just as they might be inflamed by new challenges but the threat of a return to violence is never fully gone This book explores how such a condition developed between Good Friday and Brexit addressing variations in the quality of peace in the insecurity of official structures at Stormont the shifting role of community groups and the third sector and the adaptation of culture as a culture war replaced physical violence on the streets The Speaker ,1893 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2007 Imperial Debris Ann Laura Stoler,2013-05-10 Imperial Debris redirects critical focus from ruins as evidence of the past to ruination as the processes through which imperial power occupies the present Ann Laura Stoler s introduction is a manifesto a compelling call for postcolonial studies to expand its analytical scope to address the toxic but less perceptible corrosions and violent accruals of colonial aftermaths as well as their durable traces on the material environment and people s bodies and minds In their provocative tightly focused responses to Stoler the contributors explore subjects as seemingly diverse as villages submerged during the building of a massive dam in southern India Palestinian children taught to envision and document ancestral homes razed by the Israeli military and survival on the toxic edges of oil refineries and amid the remains of apartheid in Durban South Africa They consider the significance of Cold War imagery of a United States decimated by nuclear blast perceptions of a swath of Argentina s Gran Chaco as a barbarous void and the enduring resonance in contemporary sexual violence of atrocities in King Leopold s Congo Reflecting on the physical destruction of Sri Lanka on Detroit as a colonial metropole in relation to sites of ruination in the Amazon and on interactions near a UNESCO World Heritage Site in the Brazilian state of Bahia the contributors attend to present day harms in the occluded unexpected sites and situations where earlier imperial formations persist Contributors Ariella Azoulay John F Collins Sharad Chari E Valentine Daniel Gast n Gordillo Greg Grandin Nancy Rose Hunt Joseph Masco Vyjayanthi Venuturupalli Rao Ann Laura Stoler The Parliamentary Monitor ,2004 Local Citizenship in the Global Arena Sally Findlow,2016-11-03 Local Citizenship in the Global Arena proposes a reconsideration of both citizenship and citizenship education moving away equally from prevailing global citizenship and fundamental British values approaches towards a curriculum for education that is essentially about creating cosmopolitan included and inclusive politically engaged citizens of communities local national and global Viewing education as both problem and solution Findlow argues that today s climate of rapid and unpredictable geopolitical and cultural re scoping requires an approach to citizenship education that both reflects and shapes society paying attention to relationships between the local and global aspects of political voice equality and community Drawing on a range of international examples she explores the importance and possibilities of a form of education that instead of promoting divisive competition educates about citizenship in its various forms and encourages the sorts of open and radical thinking that can help young people cross ideological and physical borders and use their voice in line with their own and others real long term interests Successive chapters develop this argument by critically examining the key elements of citizenship discourses through the interrelated lenses of geopolitical change nationalism the competition fetish critical pedagogy multiculturalism protest politics feminism and ecology and highlighting ways in which the situationally diverse lived realities of citizenship have been mediated by different forms of education The book draws attention to how we think of education s place in a world of combined globalisation localism anti state revolt and xenophobia It will be of key interest to academics researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of education political science philosophy sociology social policy cultural studies and anthropology Library Literature ,1934 An index to library and information science
