The Remaking of Memory in the Age of the Internet and Social Media Qi Wang, Andrew Hoskins, 2024 In this book the leading international scholars of memory studies synthesize emerging social and cognitive science research on the impact of social media and the Internet on remembering and forgetting. They address methodological issues in studying memory in the digital age and examine whether human memory is being threatened by a shift from a healthy reliance to a dependency on technology. The book aims to build theoretical and empirical foundations for further research to understand the consequences of the Internet and social media for memory representation, expression and socialization in individuals and the implications for the family, community and society.

From Film Practice to Data Process Sarah Atkinson, 2017-12-20 To what extent have digital innovations transformed the UK film industry? What new practices and processes are emerging within the contemporary UK filmmaking landscape? What impact is this having upon filmmaking professionals? The business of conventional feature filmmaking is like no other in that it assembles a huge company of people from a range of disciplines on a temporary basis all to engage in the collaborative endeavour of producing a unique one off piece of work. By focusing on the pivotal year of 2012 and by considering the input of every single contributor to the process this book illuminates how this period of analogue to digital transition is impacting upon working practices, cultures, opportunities and structures in the industry and examines the various causative forces behind their adoptions and resistances. With an in depth case study of Sally Potter's 2012 film Ginger Rosa and drawing upon interviews with international film industry practitioners From Film Practice to Data Process is a groundbreaking examination of film production in its totality in a moment of profound change.

ReFocus: The Films of Albert Brooks Christian B. Long, 2021-06-30 This is the first sustained critical collection on Albert Brooks one of the key but under examined figures in American stand up television comedy and Hollywood film comedy. Analysing every film written and directed by Albert Brooks including Real Life 1979, Modern Romance 1981 and Lost in America 1985 as well as a number of his acting and voice over roles his stand up comedy albums, talk show appearances and writing the book argues that Albert Brooks not only merits a wider viewership both critical and popular but also that his career offers a useful lens through which to understand American film and culture since the late 1960s.
