

When a brake application is made (Fig. 29), air is drawn from the primary reservoir (green) through the foot valve and is passed on to the relay valve, which delivers air from the primary reservoir to the rear brake chambers. At the same time, air is also drawn from the secondary reservoir (red), passes through the foot valve and is passed on to the front brake chambers.

If there is an air loss in either circuit, the other circuit will continue to operate independently (Fig. 30 and Fig. 31). Unless air is lost in both circuits, the vehicle will continue to have braking ability. The primary and secondary circuits are equipped with low-pressure warning devices and pressure gauges.
