Tatsui-D'Arcy,2011-03-03 Whether your biggest concern is getting your children into an Ivy League university or making sure that they don t turn into spoiled entitled brats anyone raising kids in 21st century America would agree that parenting today is as hard as it s ever been For those who neither want to be strict oppressive Tiger Moms nor indulgent overprotective Helicopter Moms Susan Tatsui D Arcy provides an illuminating look at her journey to find a middle way the way of the American Tiger With trademark passion and a good natured sense of humor Susan offers both an astute analysis of where our parenting culture has gone wrong and a detailed chronicle of her attempts to raise her daughters the right way Our Entitled Children An American Tiger s Answer to our Shattered Educational System is packed with valuable insights gleaned from Susan s 26 years of parenting as well as a comprehensive account of her award winning K 12 curriculum which has helped her students get into some of the best colleges in the country It is an indispensable resource for any parent looking for balance in their children's lives as well as their own     The Roeper School Don Ambrose, Bharath Sriraman, Tracy L. Cross, 2013-12-30 How can we design schools that energetically promote intellectual development while also attending to the social emotional and ethical growth of students In today's frenzied climate of accountability driven school reform it is difficult to establish anything more than achievement of superficial knowledge and skill Fortunately there is a vibrant example of holistic student centered education that engenders dynamic multidimensional student growth The Roeper School enables students to develop strong intrinsic motivation as they discover aspirations and develop talents consistent with those aspirations Simultaneously from a very young age students take considerable responsibility for their own actions and for the processes that go on in their school Following the Roeper philosophy each student generates a long term sense of purposeful direction a strong sense of intrapersonal awareness impressive creative and critical thinking skills and a finely tuned sense of ethical responsibility Upon graduation Roeper students are well prepared to find or create highly productive niches in the world of work and rewarding personal lives while serving as mature ethical citizens of a complex 21st century globalized society This book includes descriptions of the multidimensional education the Roeper School provides The perspectives in the volume are diverse coming from leading researchers and theorists in the field of gifted education as well as teachers administrators alumni and current students from the school itself Overall the book provides a beacon of hope for 21st century education

America's Future: Biden And The Progressives Daniel Quinn Mills, Steven Rosefield, 2022-04-11 This book is about a choice President Biden must make that will determine the future of America His choice is between being a partisan politician or a non partisan statesman However to be a statesman he must contend with the progressive wing of his party

Today's progressives have become revolutionaries whose purpose is to remake America by canceling their opponents Biden has a tiger by the tail As in all such situations the problem is how to let go In this book we suggest how Biden can free himself from the danger posed by the progressives and simultaneously benefit America dramatically

Socialization in Higher Education and the Early Career John C. Weidman, Linda DeAngelo, 2020-02-17 This book celebrates the contributions of John Weidman and his colleagues to the understanding of student socialization in higher education It includes innovative chapters reflecting new approaches to higher education student socialization with respect to students of color gender STEM and students in higher education systems outside the USA Specifically the book examines socialization between and within in a range of groups including national international and minority students parents doctoral students early career faculty and scholarly practitioners The book assesses methodological approaches and suggests directions for reformulating theory and practice Using sociological perspectives to address issues and concerns at both the undergraduate and graduate levels the book gives renewed life to the college impact literature It includes revisions and expansions of the original Weidman frameworks based on the synthesis of existing research with new work reflecting unique perspectives by a variety of authors John Weidman has been an indisputable force in the study and understanding of student socialization in higher education

This new book by Weidman and his coeditor Linda DeAngelo represents an undeniably significant and welcomed expansion of the original Weidman model of student socialization. In updating and revising the original model chapter authors give attention to various contemporary issues such as student diversity gender differences early career experiences and internationalism. Whether one samples only some of the articles that constitute this book or reads all of them the professional payoff will be substantial. Kenneth A. Feldman Professor of Sociology Stony Brook University John Weidman has made a number of groundbreaking contributions to our understanding of student socialization in postsecondary education. This book edited with Linda DeAngelo brings together a group of fine scholars whose contributions will push our understanding even further. It is a significant addition to the college impact literature. Ernest T. Pascarella Petersen Chair in Higher Education University of Iowa.

Duncan, 2014-09-01 In Mothering in East Asian Communities Duncan and Wong seamlessly rupture a homogenous identity category that of the tiger mom. The editors invoke the works of diverse contributors who critically challenge essentialized identity categories and racialized and sexualized experiences of women of color within the institution of motherhood and practices of mothering. Here the edited volume grapples with globalization transnationalism and capitalism with an East Asian ethno racial cultural context. Duncan and Wong offer a personal and political analysis of motherhood that is socially and
