Old Testament Interpretation James Luther Mays, David L. Petersen, Kent Harold Richards, 1995. The eighteen essays presented in this important volume will orient readers of the Old Testament in three ways. They describe the most significant developments in Old Testament interpretation since the mid twentieth century. They delineate the dominant trends of the present, exploring the currents that are shaping new directions of interpretation. And uniquely they suggest the directions that such interpretation will take at the beginning of the twenty first century. The volume thus moves beyond chronicling the past and illuminating the present to establishing prospects for the future by considering the consequences of current trends in scholarship and suggesting what readers of the Old Testament may expect at the beginning of a new century of interpretation. Written and edited by his friends and colleagues Old Testament Interpretation Past Present and Future honors the life and work of Gene M. Tucker, recently retired from the faculty of Candler School of Theology and President of the Society of Biblical Literature in 1996.

Archaeological "objectivity" in Interpretation, 1986. Bodies Inhabiting the World
Niels Henrik Gregersen, Derek R. Nelson, Bengt Kristensson Uggla, 2023-11-20. Bodies Inhabiting the World. Scandinavian Creation Theology and the Question of Home offers a multidimensional investigation of how houses, bodies, communities and the whole universe may be conceived and refigured as places where we belong where we are at home in God's creation. In this way revisiting the tradition of Scandinavian creation theology provides profound resources to make theological affirmations of God's omnipresence in the human condition we all share. The emergence here of an exciting new theological program can be recognized beyond the limitations of other contemporary agendas, cul de sacs, blind spots and diffidence. What it is to have a home is a universal question closely connected to what it means to be human and to live a good, flourishing life. But the negative experiences of homelessness, broken homes, statelessness and alienation always lurk in the background of the universal quest to find one's home in the world. This book contains fourteen essays exploring the dynamics of the human experience of finding, losing and finding again a home.
