Cohort Study- used for outbreaks in small, well-defined populations, moves forward or backward from exposure

| Disease? | Disease + | Disease - |
|-----------|-----------|-----------|
| Exposed | (A) | (B) |
| Unexposed | (C) | (D) |

Attack Rate- exposed $A/(A+B)$ unexposed $C/(C+D)$

Relative Risk- $[A/(A+B)]/[C/(C+D)]$

Relative Risk > 1: more likely

Relative Risk < 1: possible protective effect

0 → 1 →

Case control Study- used when groups are not well-defined compares people with the disease to people without, works backward

| Exposed | Case Patients | Controls |
|---------|---------------|----------|
| Yes | (A) | (B) |
| No | (C) | (D) |

Odds ratio: $(A/C) / (B/D) = (A \times D) / (B \times C)$

|-----------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Case-control | Good for rare disease or long latency, examine multiple exposures from a single outcome; less expensive and quicker to conduct than cohort study | Possible error in recalling past exposure (Recall Bias) Possible time-order confusion |
| Cohort | Examining multiple outcomes for a single exposure; examine rare exposures (such as asbestos but not for rare disease); can calculate the incidence of disease (while case control cannot); best technique for an outbreak in a small, well defined population; most accurate observational study | Not good for rare diseases, costly in time and resources; possible loss to follow up over time; factor, which may be many years in the past or may be seen as socially (un)desirable |
| Cross-sectional | Relatively short duration; can study several outcomes; least expensive | Since exposure and disease status are measured at the same point in time, it may not always be possible to distinguish whether the exposure preceded or followed the disease. |
| Experimental or Trial | Most scientifically sound, best measure of exposure | Time consuming and Expensive; Unethical for Harmful Exposures |

10 Steps to Outbreak Investigation

- 1) Prepare for field work- Research disease, prepare to travel, make arrangements with personal contacts
- 2) Establish the existence of an outbreak- compare current number of cases to previous cases, use health records, documents, etc.
- 3) Verify diagnosis- Review clinical and laboratory results for the cases, interview patients
- 4) Define and identify cases- establish case definition, have clinical info, characteristics of the people, place, time, etc.
- 5) Describe and orient the data in terms of person, place, and time- use epi curve to describe how many cases at what time
- 6) Develop hypotheses- consider disease, interview people who are ill, try and notice what certain characteristics make people have the disease
- 7) Evaluate hypotheses- compare with established fact, use statistics, use case-control or cohort studies
- 8) Refine hypotheses- study environment, use data for more insight
- 9) Control and Prevention measures- immunization, medicine, isolation, carry out as soon as possible
- 10) Communicate findings- Oral briefing for local health authorities, written report for archives
