Mother Tongues Barbara Johnson,2003-11-30 Charles Baudelaire Walter Benjamin and Sylvia Plath make up the odd trio on which this book is based It is in the surprising and revealing links between them links pertaining to troublesome mothers elusive foreign languages and professional disappointments that Barbara Johnson maps the coordinates of her larger claims about the ideal of oneness in every area of life and about the damage done by this ideal The existence of sexual difference precludes an original or ultimate one who would represent all of mankind the plurality of languages makes it impossible to think that one doesn t live in translation and the plurality of the sexes means that every human being came from a woman s body and some will reproduce this feat while others won t In her most personal and deeply considered book about difference Johnson asks Is the mother the guardian of a oneness we have never had The relations that link mothers bodies words and laws serve as the guiding puzzles as she searches for an answer

Translators on Translation Kelly Washbourne,2024-12-13 This is a book in pursuit of translators philosophies or personal theories of translation From Vladimir Nabokov and William Carlos Williams to Ursula K Le Guin and Langston Hughes Translators on Translation coaxes each subject s reflections on their art their particular view of translation and how they carry out their specific form of translation The translators intellectual biographies expand our understanding of their views often in their own words on the aesthetic political and philosophical nature of translation lend insight into their translation decision making on specific works afford critical summaries and contextualizations of their key theoretical and theoretico practical works unearth their figurative conceptualizations of translation and construct their subject identities As a person s body of work can be diffuse scattered fragmentary and contradictory inner lives have to be constructed and reconstructed Through a recovery and narrativizing of their writing and speaking on translation their interviews paratextual commentary letters lecture notes and even fiction and poetry these late twentieth century subjects answer the question What is translation to you The book is supported by additional translators profiles and selected translations on the Routledge Translation Studies portal Translators on

On and Off the Page Ari J. Adipurwawidjana,M. B. Hackler,2009-03-26 This collection of essays comprised of research first presented at the seventh annual Louisiana Conference on Literature Language and Culture explores one of the most pervasive vexing and alluring concepts in the Humanities that of place Including essays which encompass a broad range of research fields and methodologies from Geography to Cybernetics it presents a cross section of approaches aimed revealing the complex cultural machinations behind what once may have seemed a static one dimensional topic Investigations into the function of place as a force in contemporary culture inevitably reveal a long history of the interplay between place and cultural product between context and text Just as traditional cultures mythologize sacred spaces so too has Western culture sanctified its own places through its literature Imagined places such as Faulker s Yoknapatawpha or Joyce s Dublin become the focus of conferences and festivals authors homes birthplaces and gravesites are transformed into sites of pilgrimage locales created for television shows and movies become actual businesses catering to a public for whom the line between fantasy and reality is increasingly blurred and persisting through the great cultural shifts of the past two hundred years is the popular and romantic notion that words performances narratives and even national identities are always in some way an expression of the places in which they are created and set With the idea of place foregrounded in so much contemporary discourse this collection promises to enter into an already lively debate and one which due to its relevance to where we live and how we make sense of our own places within them does not show any signs of flagging Tawada Yoko Doug Slaymaker,2019-11-06

This collection draws from scholars across different languages to address and assess the scholarly achievements of Tawada Yoko Yoko born in Japan 1960 and based in Germany writes and presents in both German and Japanese The contributors of this volume recognize her as one of the most important contemporary international writers Her published books alone number more than fifty volumes with roughly the same number in German and Japanese Tawada s writing unfolds at the intersections of borders whether of language identity nationality or gender Her characters are all travelers of some sort often foreigners and outsiders caught in surreal in between spaces such as between language and culture or between species subjectivities and identities Sometimes they exist in the spaces between gendered and national identities sometimes they are found caught between reality and the surreal perhaps madness Tawada has been one of the most prescient and provocative thinkers on the complexities of travelling and living in the contemporary world and thus has always been obsessed with passports and trouble at borders This current volume was conceived to augment the first edited volume of Tawada s work Yoko Tawada Voices from Everywhere which appeared from Lexington Books in 2007 That volume represented the first extensive English language coverage of Tawada s writing In the meantime there is increased scholarly interest in Tawada s artistic activity and it is time for more sustained critical examinations of her output This collection gathers and analyzes essays that approach the complex international themes found in many of Tawada s works As If! Chase

Saldanha,2019-09-20 The Routledge Encyclopedia of Translation Studies remains the most authoritative reference work for students and scholars interested in engaging with the phenomenon of translation in all its modes and in relation to a wide range of theoretical and methodological traditions This new edition provides a considerably expanded and updated revision of what appeared as Part I in the first and second editions Featuring 132 as opposed to the 75 entries in Part I of the second edition it offers authoritative critical overviews of additional topics such as authorship canonization conquest cosmopolitanism crowdsourced translation dubbing fan audiovisual translation genetic criticism healthcare interpreting hybridity intersectionality legal interpreting media interpreting memory multimodality nonprofessional interpreting note taking orientalism paratexts thick translation war and world literature Each entry ends with a set of annotated references for further reading Entries no longer appearing in this edition including historical overviews that previously appeared as Part II are now available online via the Routledge Translation Studies Portal Designed to support critical reflection teaching and research within as well as beyond the field of translation studies this is an invaluable resource for students and scholars of translation interpreting literary theory and social theory among other disciplines Time for Baudelaire E. S. Burt, Elissa Marder, Kevin Newmark, 2014 Time for Baudelaire suggests it's time that Yale French Studies devote an issue to the poet who more than any other inaugurated the unfinished epoch of modernity It also urges that we take or make time for thinking about the specific ways in which poetry and perhaps poetry alone allows a historical concept like modernity to become accessible in the first place Finally it asks what time means when it comes to reading the relation between Baudelaire's writings and the moment the event the era and our capacity to experience them together or in isolation from one another
