Arny,2000-06 Is It Night or Day? Fern Schumer Chapman,2010-03-16 It s 1938 and twelve year old Edith is about to move from the tiny German village she s lived in all her life to a place that seems as foreign as the moon Chicago Illinois And she will be doing it alone This dramatic and chilling novel about one girl s escape from Hitler s Germany was inspired by the experiences of the author s mother one of twelve hundred children rescued by Americans as part of the One Thousand Children project This title has Common Core connections Is It Night or Day is a 2011 Bank Street Best Children s Book of the Year

Becoming My Mother's Daughter Erika Gottlieb,2009-07-19 Becoming My Mother s Daughter A Story of Survival and Renewal tells the story of three generations of a Jewish Hungarian family whose fate has been inextricably bound up with the turbulent history of Europe from the First World War through the Holocaust and the communist takeover after World War II to the family s dramatic escape and emmigration to Canada The emotional centre and narrative voice of the story belong to Eva an artist dreamer and writer trying to work through her complex and deep relationship with her mother whose portrait she cannot paint until she completes her journey through memory The core of the book is Eva s riveting recollection of the last months of World War II in Budapest seen through a child s eyes and is reminiscent in its power of scenes in Joy Kogawa s Obasan Exploring the bond between generations of mothers and daughters the book illustrates the struggle between the need for independence and the search for continuity the significant impact of childhood on adult life the reshaping of personality in immigration the importance of dreams in making us face reality and the redemptive power of memory Illustrations by the author throughout the book some in colour enhance the story

Motherland Rita Goldberg,2014-01-27 Like Anne Frank Hilde Jacobsthal was born in Germany and brought up in Amsterdam where the two families became close Unlike Anne Frank she survived the war and Otto Frank was to become godfather to Rita her first daughter I am the child of a woman who survived the Holocaust not by the skin of her teeth but heroically This book tells the story of my mother s dramatic life before during and after the Nazi invasion of the Netherlands in 1940 I wrote Motherland because I wanted to understand a story which had become a kind of family myth My mother s life could be seen as a narrative of the twentieth century along with my father she was present and active at many of its significant moments Rita

Goldberg Hilde Jacobsthal was fifteen when the Nazis invaded Holland. After the arrest of her parents in 1943 she fled to Belgium where she went into hiding and worked with the Resistance at night. She was liberated by the American army in 1944. In April 1945 she volunteered with a British Red Cross Unit to go to the relief of Bergen Belsen which had itself been liberated one week before her arrival. The horror and devastation were overwhelming but despite her shock and grief she stayed at the camp for two years helping with the enormous task of recovery. Sorrow and exuberance went hand in hand as the young people at Belsen found renewed life and each other. Hilde got to know Hanns Alexander subject of the recently published Hanns and Rudolf who was on the British War Crimes Commission and eventually a Swiss doctor called Max Goldberg. Motherland is the culmination of a lifetime of reflection and a decade of research. Rita Goldberg enlarges the story she heard from her mother with historical background. She has talked with her about the minutest details of her life and pored over her papers exploring not only her mother's life but her own. Complicated feelings are explored lightly as Rita takes the story beyond Bergen Belsen where paradoxically her parents met and fell in love beyond Israel's War of Independence where they both volunteered and on to the next chapter of their lives in the US. A deeply moving story. Motherland will become an essential text about World War II the Holocaust and the survival of the spirit.

Holocaust

Mothers and Daughters Federica K. Clementi, 2013-12-03. In this brave and original work Federica Clementi focuses on the mother daughter bond as depicted in six works by women who experienced the Holocaust sometimes with their mothers sometimes not. The daughters' memoirs which record the all too human qualities of those who were persecuted and murdered by the Nazis show that the Holocaust cannot be used to neatly segregate lives into the categories of before and after. Clementi's discussions of differences in social status along with the persistence of antisemitism and patriarchal structures support this point strongly demonstrating the tenacity of trauma individual familial and collective among Jews in twentieth century Europe.
