Mothers And Sons In Their Own Words:

The Scottsboro Boys in Their Own Words Kwando M. Kinshasa, 2014-01-28 This is a collection of letters written by the nine African American defendants in the infamous March 1931 Scottsboro Alabama rape case. Though most of the defendants were barely literate and all were teenagers when incarcerated over the course of almost two decades in prison, they learned the rudiments of effective letter writing and in doing so forcefully expressed a wide range of perspectives on the falsity of the charges against them as their incarceration became a cause celebre both in the United States and internationally. Central to this book is the chronologically structured presentation of letters 1931-1950, including some correspondence from attorneys and members of Scottsboro support committees. The original grammar, syntax, and vernacular of the defendants are maintained in a desire to preserve the authenticity of these letters.

Mothers and Sons, 1996-03 Mothers and Sons In Their Own Words captures the compelling connections between mothers and sons and translates those subtle emotions into deceptively simple photographs. In the accompanying texts, mothers and sons reveal their most trying and their most exalted moments with candor and humor, recounting both extraordinary actions and everyday existence with enthusiasm. From a parent's lyrical essay to a two-year-old's uncomplicated observations, with an introduction by Isabel Allende, Mothers and Sons is a powerful tribute in both words and images to the unique yet universal relationship between mothers and sons.

Mothers And Sons, 1996-09-30 From the acclaimed photographer of Chronicle Books' bestselling Fathers and Daughters comes a companion collection of 60 duotone portraits and poignant essays exploring the complex and compelling relationship between mothers and sons. Among those featured are Virginia Kelley Clinton and Bill Clinton, Leah Adler and Stephen Spielberg, Jamaica Kincaid and Harold Shawn, and Isabel Allende and Nicholas Frias.

Christine Fair,2018-12-15 This path breaking volume reveals a little known aspect of how Lashkar e Tayyaba a jihadist terrorist group functions in Pakistan and beyond by translating and commenting upon a range of publications produced and disseminated by Dar ul Andlus the publishing wing of LeT Only a fraction of LeT s cadres ever see battle most of them are despatched on nation wide prozelytising dawa missions to convert Pakistanis to their particular interpretation of Islam in support of which LeT has developed a sophisticated propagandist literature This canon of Islamist texts is the most popular and potent weapon in LeT s arsenal and its scrutiny affords insights into how and who the group recruits LeT s justification for jihad its vision of itself in global and regional politics the enemies LeT identifies and the allies it cultivates and how and where it conducts its operations Particular attention is paid to the role that LeT assigns to women by examining those writings which heap extravagant praise upon the mothers of aspirant jihadis who bless their operations and martyrdom It is only by understanding LeT s domestic functions as set out in these texts that one can begin to appreciate why Pakistan so fiercely supports it despite mounting international pressure to disband the group Mothers' Counsel to Their Sons
