Erbacher, Linda M. Heß, Corinna Lenhardt, 2018-03-15 The fantastic represents a wide and heterogeneous field in literary cultural and media studies Encompassing some of the field s foremost voices such as Fred Botting and Larissa Lai as well as exciting new perspectives by junior scholars this volume offers a mosaic of the fantastic now The contributions pinpoint and discuss current developments in theory and practice by offering enlightening snapshots of the contemporary Anglophone landscape of research in the fantastic. The authors' arguments and analyses thus give new impetus to the field's theoretical and methodological approaches, its textual materials, its main interests, and its crucial findings. Polyamorous Elders Kathy Labriola, 2022-11-08. This book explores the unique group of elders, ages fifty-five and older, who practice some form of consensual nonmonogamy. It covers both the joys and challenges of multiple relationships for elders and explores how their relationships develop and evolve. Polyamorous elders have the complexities of juggling multiple relationships as well as navigating all the issues of aging: managing medical conditions and disabilities, their own and/or their partners' assuming caregiving responsibilities for aging relatives, grieving the deaths of parents, siblings, and partners, retiring from careers and starting new lives, and potentially moving into some form of senior living. Drawing from her extensive clinical and personal experience working with this population, Kathy Labriola provides anecdotes from polyamorous elders' lives, including the constellation of relationships surrounding each individual couple or triad. This guide will help health care and mental health clinicians, researchers, and professionals as well as polyamorous elders and their loved ones better understand the concerns and diverse lifestyles of this population to better represent and support them. The New I Do Susan Pease Gadoua, Vicki Larson, 2014-09-23. If half of all cars bought in America each year broke down, there would be a national uproar. But when people suggest that maybe every single marriage doesn't look like the next and isn't meant to last until death, there's nothing but a rash of proposed laws trying to force it to do just that. In The New I Do, therapist Susan Pease Gadoua and journalist Vicki Larson take a groundbreaking look at the modern shape of marriage to help readers open their minds to marrying more consciously and creatively. Offering actual models of less traditional marriages, including everything from a parenting marriage intended for the sake of raising and nurturing children to a comfort or safety marriage where people marry for financial security or companionship, the book covers unique options for couples interested in forging their own paths. With advice to help listeners decide what works for them, The New I Do acts as a guide to thinking outside the marital box and the framework for a new debate on marriage in the 21st century. Fraught Intimacies Nathan Rambukkana, 2015-05-30. Adultery scandals involving politicians, dating websites for married women and men, raids of polygamous communities, reality shows about polyamorists: it seems that non-monogamy is everywhere in popular culture, in the news, and before the courts. In Fraught Intimacies, Nathan Rambukkana examines how polygamy, adultery, and polyamory are represented in the public sphere and the effect this is having on intimate relationships and aspects of contemporary Western society. As this book demonstrates, although monogamy is considered and presented as the norm in Western society, many kinds of sexual and romantic relationships exist within its borders. Rambukkana's intricate analysis reveals how some forms of non-monogamy are tacitly accepted, even glamourized, while others are vilified and reviled. By questioning what this says about intimacy, power, and privilege, this book offers an innovative framework for understanding the status of non-monogamy in
