Ori Introduction To The Responsible Conduct Of Research 2004:

ORI Introduction to the Responsible Conduct of Research Nicholas H. Steneck, 2007 The ORI Introduction to the Responsible Conduct of Research draws together in a single easy to read book the fundamentals of responsible research. Readers are guided through the complex world of regulations and best practices from initial design through to publication. Each chapter is devoted to one of ORI's nine core areas: include research misconduct, human and animal research, data management, conflict of interest, collaboration, mentoring, authorship, and peer review. While it is often assumed that researchers learn responsible practices on the job, many do not. And unfortunately, sometimes what they learn on the job is misguided or wrong. The ORI Introduction to RCR provides an easy way for anyone from beginning undergraduate researcher to experienced postdoc, faculty member or industrial scientist to learn what society expects of them as professionals. Opening cases, study questions, and additional readings make this book ideal for classroom use. A series of original cartoons by artist David Zinn at the beginning of each chapter use humor as a way to engage the reader in this serious and vitally important topic. This important and authoritative publication was created by the U.S. Government to further activities and support programs that enhance education in the responsible conduct of scientific research. It supplements existing resources by making a comprehensive overview of basic rules of the road for responsible research available to all Public Health Service funded researchers with a special focus on the needs of small and mid-size research institution and beginning researchers in mind.

Ethical Issues in Applied Linguistics Scholarship Peter I. De Costa, Amr Rabie-Ahmed, Carlo Cinaglia, 2024-11-21 This volume contributes to ongoing discussions of ethics in Applied Linguistics scholarship by focusing in depth on several different sub areas within the field. The book is comprised of four sections: methodological approaches to research, specific participant populations and contexts of research, language pedagogy and policy, and personal and interactive aspects of research and scholarship. Moving beyond discussions of how ethics is conceptualized or defined, the chapters in this volume explore ethics in practice by examining context specific ethical challenges and offering guidance for current and future Applied Linguistics scholars. This volume responds to the need to provide context specific research ethics training for graduate students and novice researchers interested in a variety of contexts and methodological approaches. After engaging with this volume, new and experienced applied linguists alike will gain familiarity with specific ethical challenges and practices within particular sub disciplines relevant to their work and across the field more broadly.

Changing of Knowledge in Composition Lance Massey, Richard C. Gephhardt, 2011-07-16 Lance Massey and Richard Gebhardt offer in this collection many signs that composition again faces a moment of precariousness even as it did in the 1980s the years of the great divorce from literary studies The contours of writing in the university again are rapidly changing making the objects of scholarship in composition again unstable Composition is poised to move not from modern to postmodern but from process to postprocess from a service oriented field to a research driven discipline Some would say we are already there Momentum is building to replace composition and the pedagogical imperative long implied in that term with a writing studies model devoted to the study of composition as a fundamental tool of and force within all areas of human activity Appropriately contributors here use Stephen M North's 1987 book The Making of Knowledge in Composition to frame and background their discussion as they look at both the present state of the field and its potential futures As in North's volume The Changing of Knowledge in Composition describes a body of research and pedagogy brimming with conflicting claims methodologies and politics and with little consensus regarding the proper subjects and modes of inquiry The deep ambivalence within the field itself is evident in this collection Contributors here envision composition both as retaining its commitment to broad based generalized writing instruction and as heading toward content based vertical writing programs in departments and programs of writing studies They both challenge and affirm composition's pedagogical heritage And they sound both sanguine and pessimistic notes about composition's future Encyclopedia of Philosophy Donald M. Borchert, 2006 This volume covering entries from Price Richard to Sextus Empiricus presents articles on Eastern and Western philosophies medical and scientific ethics the Holocaust terrorism censorship biographical entries and much more
