The Models and Techniques Used in Family Mediation in England and Wales Dr Amel Ketani, 2022-03-03 Over the past forty years the approach to legal disputes in England and Wales has experienced some important changes. In many instances mediation with its objective of resolving disputes is favoured over the traditional and adversarial procedure of litigation. Intriguingly the perspectives of mediators on the practice of family mediation are relatively unexplored territory. This book with its focus on family mediation seeks to reduce this gap by supplementing the existing literature. It will put forward the family mediators' opinions and my recommendations on how family mediation can be improved from the perspective of models. It aims to contribute through the practitioners' lens to some of the important theoretical issues, discussions and difficulties surrounding family mediation. In addition the aim of this book is to set out the understanding of family mediators and draw on this to explore important themes such as mediation models, their principles and the nature of the task. The analysis of these themes will reveal many things from the difficulties and demanding tasks in family mediation to the satisfaction and reward that can be felt by family mediators who achieve the parties' objective of amicably resolving a family dispute. This book brings clarity and offers new contributions to the field of family mediation and dispute resolution. A must-read for practitioners, academics and professionals working in the field. Dr Sara Hourani, Senior Law Lecturer at Middlesex University. This is a very practical guide by a specialist who clearly understands the important role that different mediation techniques play in legal practice today. This guide combines both an academic analysis with some practical tools that are especially useful to practitioners in the field of Family Law. The guide considers the merits and in some cases drawbacks of different mediation models and offers a helpful perspective on conditions that need to be met which would improve the efficacy of mediation. This is a highly recommended resource for academics, teachers and practitioners alike. Ms Marie Iskander, Solicitor, New South Wales, Australia.

Models as Mediators Mary S. Morgan, Margaret Morrison, 1999-10-21 Edited collection examining the ways in which models are used in modern science.

Mediated Modeling Marjan Van den Belt, 2004-04 Mediated modeling is an innovative new approach that enhances the use of computer models as invaluable tools to guide policy and management decisions. Rather than having outside experts dispensing answers to local stakeholders, mediated modeling brings together diverse interests to raise the shared level of understanding and foster a broad and deep consensus. It provides a structured process based on system dynamics thinking in which community members, government officials, industry representatives and other stakeholders can work together to produce a coherent, simple but elegant simulation model. Mediated Modeling by Marjan Van Den Belt is a practical guide to participatory modeling for both practitioners and students, one that is firmly theoretically grounded in the field of systems dynamics and environmental modeling Five in depth case studies describe the successful use of the technique in a variety of settings and a final chapter synthesizes the lessons highlighted by the case studies Mediated Modeling s step by step description of the techniques and practical advice regarding implementation offer a real world solution for all those seeking to make sound decisions about the environment
