Wheeling through Toronto Albert Koehl,2024-05-01 Highlighting an important yet often ignored part of Toronto's transportation story Wheeling through Toronto chronicles the history of the bicycle and reveals a way forward for a world in climate crisis. Throughout its history in Toronto the bicycle's place on the roads and in public esteem has fluctuated wildly, flaunted as fashionable, disparaged and derided, rescued from looming obscurity and promoted as a way to respond to the challenges of the day. What is it about the simple bicycle that it can be so loved by some yet despised and detested by others? Wheeling through Toronto offers a 130 year ride from the 1890s to the present to help answer this question. Albert Koehl, a Toronto lawyer and leading cycling advocate, chronicles the tumultuous history of this mode of transportation from the bicycle craze at the turn of the century to the rise of the car and the motorway in the 1950s to the intensifying cry for active transportation in the 1990s and into pandemic times. In an era of catastrophic climate events, Wheeling through Toronto highlights how the bicycle should be celebrated not only as hope for the future but also for its affordability for its contribution to clean and healthy mobility and because it brings happiness and joy to so many. Drawing on archival materials, newspapers and personal interviews and full of fascinating vignettes, this book presents the story of how we got here and what Torontonians need to know as we pedal forward.

Reengineering the Sharing Economy Babak Heydari, Ozlem Ergun, Rashmi Dyal-Chand, Yakov Bart, 2023-04-06 The current sharing economy suffers from system wide deficiencies even as it produces distinctive benefits and advantages for some participants. The first generation of sharing markets has left us to question: Will there be any workers in the sharing economy? Can we know enough about these technologies to regulate them? Is there any way to avoid the monopolization of assets, information and wealth? Using convergent transdisciplinary perspectives, this volume examines the challenge of reengineering a sharing economy that is more equitable, democratic, sustainable and just. The volume enhances the reader's capacity for integrating applicable findings and theories in business law and social science into ethical engineering design and practice. At the same time, the book helps explain how technological innovations in the sharing economy create value for different stakeholders and how they impact society at large.

Reengineering the Sharing Economy is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core. Movement Nicole Gelinas, 2024-11-05 A gripping account of how the automobile has failed NYC and how mass transit and a revitalized streetscape are vital to its post-pandemic recovery. In 1969, as all students of New York City history think they have learned, master builder Robert Moses lost his long battle to urbanist Jane Jacobs over his planned Lower Manhattan Expressway. The ten-lane elevated expressway would have sliced across SoHo and Little Italy, demolishing historic buildings and displacing thousands of families and businesses. Jacobs and her neighbors defeated Moses and, as a result, New York became the only major American city with no interstate highway running through its core. Like many global cities, though, New York had spent fifty years during the first half of the twentieth century trying and failing to tame its heavily populated landscape to fit the private automobile New York has now spent more than fifty years trying to undo those mistakes wresting back city space for people not cars Movement New York's Long War to Take Back Its Streets from the Car chronicles the earlier less known battles that preceded the cancellation of the Lower Manhattan Expressway Jacobs became an example for generations of urban planners but whose example did Jacobs emulate in an earlier victory that saved Washington Square Park Moses may serve handily as New York's über villain now but who before him was responsible for destroying a critical part of New York's transit system A well respected urban writer who has focused on New York's transportation system for more than a decade author Nicole Gelinas resumes the story where Robert Caro's landmark The Power Broker ended Movement explores how in the half century leading up to the COVID 19 pandemic New York's re embracement of its mass transit system and a livable streetscape helped save the city Gelinas tackles the 1970s environmental movement the 1980s rebuilding of the subways and more contemporary battles from Mayor Bloomberg's push for more pedestrian plazas and bike lanes in the early 2000s to transportation advocates protests to prevent traffic deaths in the Mayor de Blasio era of the 2010s to how New York's stewardship of its streets and subways have played a critical role during the 2020 pandemic and subsequent recovery

Introducing a cast of transportation heroes to rival Jane Jacobs Shirley Hayes Hazel Henderson Richard Ravitch Nilka Martell and puncturing the myth of Moses as New York's anti hero Movement explores how New York City has helped redefine what it means to be a global city not a place that is easy to drive through but a place where people can take transit walk and bike to work to school or just for fun

Arts and Culture in Global Development Practice Cindy Maguire, Ann

Holt,2022-03-30 This book explores the role that arts and culture can play in supporting global international development The book argues that arts and culture are fundamental to human development and can bring considerable positive results for helping to empower communities and provide new ways of looking at social transformation Whilst most literature addresses culture in abstract terms this book focuses on practice based collective community focused sustainability minded and capacity building examples of arts and development The book draws on case studies from around the world investigating the different ways practitioners are imagining or defining the role of arts and culture in Belize Canada China Ethiopia Guatemala India Kosovo Malawi Mexico Peru South Africa Sri Lanka Taiwan Thailand the USA and Western Sahara refugee camps in Algeria The book highlights the importance of situated practice asking what questions or concerns practitioners have and inviting a dialogic sharing of resources and possibilities across different contexts Seeking to highlight practices and conversations outside normative frameworks of understanding this book will be a breath of fresh air to practitioners policy makers students and researchers from across the fields of global development social work art therapy and visual and performing arts education

Research into Talent Development in Youth Sports Carlos Eduardo Gonçalves,Humberto M. Carvalho,Arne GÜLICH,2023-11-16 The last decade witnessed a plethora of literature about talent identification and talent development Most of the research is descriptive In addition an enormous quantity of publications attempted to define normative guidelines but mostly with relatively little empirical evidence to support them We believe it is time to overview the field critically appraise the situation of research and map the topics trends and gaps The large part of recent research has focused on talent identification and the factors that reveal talents In contrast relatively less research has addressed the question how young talents develop in a long term process towards becoming senior high performers This is an evolving field and research is still in a primarily explorative stage A variety of different study designs and methodological approaches have been employed to explore different factors and outcomes of talent development yielding heterogeneous findings

AVENUE21. Connected and Automated Driving: Prospects for Urban Europe Mathias Mitteregger,Emilia M. Bruck,Aggelos Soteropoulos,Andrea Stickler,Martin Berger,Jens S. Dangschat,Rudolf Scheuvens,Ian Banerjee,2021-10-07 This open access publication examines the impact of connected and automated vehicles on the European city and the conditions that can enable this technology to make a positive contribution to urban development The authors argue for two theses that have thus far received little attention in scientific discourse as connected and automated vehicles will not be ready for use in all parts of the city for a long time previously assumed effects from traffic safety to traffic performance as well as spatial effects will need to be re evaluated To ensure this technology has a positive impact on the mobility of the future transport and settlement policy regulations must be adapted and further developed Established territorial institutional and organizational boundaries must be investigated and challenged quickly Despite or indeed because of the many uncertainties we find ourselves at the beginning of a new design phase not only in terms of technology development but also regarding politics urban planning administration and civil society

Ride the Revolution Suze Clemitson,2015-10-22 Ride the Revolution represents the best new writing on cycling from women involved in the sport at all levels as fans key personnel riders photographers journalists and presenters When Marie Marvingt decided to ride the 1908 Tour de France she was told absolument non by M Degranges and the Societe du Tour de France Instead she rode each stage 15 minutes after the official race had departed and finished all 4 488 kms of the parcours a feat that only 36 of the 110 men who entered the race could equal Her motto I decided to do everything better always and forever It's in the spirit of Breakneck Marie that this book has been written This is not an anthology of women writing about women's cycling Nor is it an anthology of women writing about men's bottoms in lycra or peloton crushes or the curse of helmet hair This is an book that celebrates the diversity of women's writing about the glorious sometimes murky often bizarre and frequently hilarious world of cycling in all its soapy operatic glory from the professional sport to the club run on the roadside and in the saddle behind the scenes and on the massage table These fresh and vibrant voices examine the sport from a new perspective to provide insights that rarely make it into the mainstream what is it like to be a top women rider or work in their support team Where is the women's sport heading and when will more women be represented at the highest level of sport's governance And how do you get out and ride your bike when the news is full of stories of cyclists dying and you can't get clothing that fits

London After Recession Iain MacRury, 2016-05-06 The City has long been the main generator of London's wealth and needless to say the impact of the Economic Crisis in the recent years on the City has greatly affected the wider urban and surrounding region not to say country as a whole This book examines the impact of the recession and discusses London's future trajectory as an entrepreneurial city and capital of the United Kingdom While recognising the enduring capacity of London to reinvent itself from being the centre of a vast Empire to becoming a global centre for financial and business services contributors evaluate different dimensions of the city's current and future development through analyses derived from sociological economic cultural and urban studies perspectives
