Education Outside the Classroom Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Education and Skills Committee, 2005. The Committees report examines the wide range of outdoor learning experiences from lessons held within school grounds to residential expeditions abroad and considers the place of outdoor learning in the curriculum from foundation stage to higher education. Issues discussed include the value of outdoor learning and the decline of opportunities for educational opportunities outside the classroom, the barriers that deter schools from teaching outside the classroom including perceptions of risks in school trips, the resources and curriculum time available for such trips, availability and costs involved, policy options for the Department for Education and Skills to help encourage schools improve and expand provision for outdoor learning and funding implications. The Committees recommendations include that the DfES should issue a Manifesto for Outdoor Learning which gives all students the right to outdoor learning and which should attract a similar funding level to the music manifesto around 30 million in order to deliver real change.

Hyde, 2005 Mr Brainfright says It's important to keep a sense of humour at all times especially when you're being ripped apart by a lion. Mr Brainfright is a teacher at Northwest Southeast Central School. He teaches Grade Five and in his class is a student called Henry McThrottle who likes telling stories. That's me. I'm Henry McThrottle and this is my latest story. It's about an evil pencil, a runaway lion, an avalanche and falling out of windows. I hope you like it. Beyond the Science Kit Wendy Saul, Jeanne Reardon, 1996 The goal of Wendy Saul and Jeanne Reardon's book is not to dispense with kits rather to encourage teachers and their students to see kits as just a beginning to real scientific inquiry. The essays in this volume reveal how elementary teachers have turned around their teaching to make themselves and their students producers as well as consumers of science knowledge.
