Energy Dynamics and Climate Mitigation Asheem Srivastav, 2020-10-19 This book analyzes the current approaches to energy management in India that is based on a carbon intensive pathway which if continued may have serious implications for climate change mitigation with severe consequences for human health and survival India being a signatory to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change UNFCCC the Kyoto Protocol and the Paris Agreement is committed to reducing greenhouse gas emissions however the country's dilemmas are whether to prioritize environment over economy or vice versa and also whether economic growth can be sustained by relying on carbon intensive development Those are explored in this book The Indian economy is poised for a big leap in the near future and the topmost priority of the government is to ensure energy security accessibility and affordability for nearly 1.5 billion people Currently 70% of India's electricity generation comes from coal and oil based thermal power plants and only 12.15% of energy is generated from renewable sources Experts are of the view that the demand for coal and gas power generation will continue to rise and is expected to reach the equivalent of nearly 2 billion t of oil by 2030 The annual consumption of natural gas is expected to increase fourfold to 200 billion m<sup>3</sup> a year in the near future and its share in the primary energy basket of coal oil and gas will rise from 6.5% to 15% by 2030 This will not only cause a significant drain on foreign reserves but will also pose an enormous challenge to policymakers and scientists This book serves as a useful guide in shaping India's future energy policy
