Journal of Economic Literature, 2002 New Vistas in Agroforestry P. K. Ramachandran Nair, M.R. Rao, L.E. Buck, 2013-03-09 It was in late 2002 that the idea of preparing a collection of multi authored chapters on different aspects of agro forestry as a compendium for the 1 World Congress of Agroforestry June 2004 was tossed around With the approval of the idea by the Congress Organizing Committee serious efforts to make it a reality got under way in early 2003 The rigorously peer reviewed and edited manuscripts were submitted to the publisher in December 2003 Considering the many different individuals involved in the task as authors and manuscript reviewers we feel quite pleased that the task could be accomplished within this timeframe We are pleased also about the contents on several counts First of all the tropical temperate mix of topics is a rare feature of a publication of this nature In spite of the scientific commonalities between tropical and temperate practices of agroforestry the differences between them are so enormous that it is often impossible to mesh them together in one publication Secondly several of the chapters are on topics that have not been discussed or described much in agroforestry literature A third feature is that some of the authors though well known in their own disciplinary areas are somewhat new to agroforestry the perceptions and outlooks of these scholars who are relatively uninfluenced by the past happenings in agroforestry gives a whole new dimension to agroforestry and broadens the scope of the subject Finally rather than just reviewing and summarizing past work most chapters take the extra effort in attempting to outline the next steps Between Five Lines Helena Jerman, 1997 Transactions of the Finnish Anthropological Society No 38 The research area of this study was once the focal point of colonial penetration in East Africa The author traces the evolution of ethnicity from the 15th century until the post colonial period She argues that ethnic group identification is used as a self referent People's perception of the present is a reflection of the colonial practice of dividing people into tribes Yet villagers in the Bagamoyo District stress commonality another dimension of ethnic consciousness

Research Libraries, 1990 Le désir de nouveautés Jeanne Guien, 2025-03-06 C'est nouveau a vient de sortir c'est la mode Pourquoi ces discours font ils vendre Comment expliquer qu'un produit mis récemment sur le marché paraisse plus désirable et plus fiable que les autres aussitôt classés et considérés comme vieux d'obsolescences Au gré de la diffusion du capitalisme depuis le XVIe siècle la nouveauté est devenue un talon de valeur Dans la publicité et la communication des entreprises elle est appliquée tout et n'importe quoi n'importe comment des voitures restent nouvelles un an des styles vestimentaires le redeviennent tous les vingt ans des objets jetables le sont pendant quelques minutes voire quelques secondes Pourtant en dépit de leur obsession pour le sujet économistes et marketeurs peinent à finir la nouveauté et justifier l'aura qu'ils lui prêtent Ils sont incapables de mesurer le nombre de nouveaux produits commercialisés chaque année et constatent que la grande majorité de ces lancements choquent cette offre ne répondant à aucune demande. Les acteurs du marché ne continuent pas moins d'encourager et d'encenser l'innovation. Cet ouvrage raconte comment par leurs discours et leurs pratiques, marketeurs publicitaires, économistes mais aussi négociants, managers politiques, designers ou scientifiques ont construit la nouveauté et sa valeur sous des formes variées, absurdes, agressives. Du commerce colonial vantant les produits exotiques aux promesses de progrès et de modernité mécanique, électrique ou numérique en passant par la mode, le style ou les produits jetables, il s'agit toujours de prêter aux consommateurs et surtout aux consommatrices un désir incontrôlable de nouveautés afin de légitimer un modèle économique d'acheteur-jeteur-racheteur.
