A World Made for Money Bret Wallach, 2015-05 A spirited and incisive survey of economic geography A World Made for Money begins with the author stopped at a red light in Norman Oklahoma Observing the landscape of drugstores and banks and for that matter the stoplight and roads themselves Bret Wallach observes Everything I see has been built to make money or at the very least to facilitate making money This he argues is a global phenomenon that nonetheless has occurred only within the past hundred years or so Although guidebooks and culture brokers often disparage these landscapes of commerce Wallach recipient of a MacArthur genius grant argues that we would do well to pay them close attention A World Made for Money provides a compelling condensed tour of our world From Silicon Valley to Sri Lanka from post Soviet Russia to post apartheid South Africa Wallach looks at how human beings are buying manufacturing working growing and shipping food and accessing the natural resources to fuel it all These essential facets of daily life propelled by the profit motive represent a transnational force shaping our surroundings and environment in ways that may not always be beautiful or even healthy but that are fundamental to understanding how the world works in the twenty first century Wallach examines the relationship between acquisitiveness and landscape reveals surprising contradictions and nuances and provides fresh perspective on politically charged topics such as sprawl deindustrialization and agribusiness

The Key Driver of Global Market Performance Timothy Mwangi Nduru,2019-02-20 Research Paper undergraduate from the year 2019 in the subject Business economics Business Management Corporate Governance Dedan Kimathi University of Technology course MSC supply Chain Management language English abstract Competition is a key driver of global market performance For many decades businesses have been excelling based on the strategy adopted by the management Notably the wrong choice of strategy is likely to derail the firm from achieving its potential This paper discusses one of the main business strategies that has been warmly embraced in the last decade Time based competition has for the past few decades been a key driver of competition in the global market The paper discusses four main bases of time competition which includes Product Development and Introduction Time Material Lead Time Delivery Time and Throughput Time Notably all these time bases for competition affects the global market performance of an organization in different ways Additionally the measures needed to determine the effect of time as a basis for competition in global competition has been discussed in details In determining the effectiveness of the time based competition as a strategy the management has to asses several measures Such measures include profitability growth in market share customer s satisfaction increased productivity and sales Throughout the paper it is evident that time based competition is a crucial driver of global market performance as opposed to quality and cost based competition which are considered to be more of enablers in the business environment than drivers In summary time based competition should be fully embraced by light minded managers that seek to remain relevant in the competitive global market
