Worthen, 1991 Changes in season rulership and human fortune are the stuff of which myth is made Why should these themes pervade the mythologies of so many cultures Might they even provide an explanation for seemingly unrelated myths and rituals What these myths have in common observes Thomas Worthen is an ancient awareness that the heavens were subject to irregularities The movement of stars we now attribute to precession was once a cause for concern about the stability of the world Worthen here proposes the paradigm of replacement to account for the recurrence of common elements in the myths of many peoples First citing the importance of rotation ritual in cultures as diverse as Buddhist and Gaelic he draws on Georges Dumézil's work with the Indo European Ambrosia Cycle to lay the foundation for his paradigm He then applies it to South American myths previously explored by Claude Lévi Strauss to the Greek myth of Phaethon and to myths of dynastic replacement about Zeus and his forebears He further shows how the replacement paradigm explains a number of semantic puzzles in Indo European studies such as the relationship of words for hammer and mill The Myth of Replacement grandly illustrates the common knowledge of nature held by ancient peoples of the world It offers scholars new perspectives on previously unconnected material as it provides general readers with a better understanding of the universality of myth Revaluation Frank Raymond Leavis, 1962 The Academy and Literature, 1882 The academy, 1882 Chosen Legacies Linde Egberts, 2017-07-14 The urge for regional identity has not declined in the process of globalization Rather heritage is used to develop regional distinctiveness and to charge identities with a past Particularly helpful for this aim are creation stories Golden Ages or recent shared traumas Some themes such as the Roman era or the Second World War appear easier to appropriate than for example prehistory This book assesses the role of heritage in the construction of regional identities in Western Europe It contains case studies on early medieval heritage in Alsace and Euregio Meuse Rhine industrial heritage in the German Ruhr area and competing memories in the Arnhem Nijmegen region in the Netherlands It presents new insights into the process of heritage production on a regional level in relationship to processes of identity construction The theoretical analysis of heritage and regional identity is innovative as these concepts were hardly analysed in relation to each other before This book also offers insights into policy
