Merleau Pontys Ontology 2nd Edition:

Merleau-Ponty's Ontology Martin C. Dillon, 1997 Dillon's general thesis is that Merleau Ponty has developed the first genuine alternative to ontological dualism seen in Western philosophy Merleau-Ponty's Ontology M. C. Dillon, 2013

Theory for Art History Jae Emerling, 2013-09-13 Theory for Art History provides clear and concise introductions to thirty key figures of contemporary theory four essential predecessors Freud Marx Nietzsche and Saussure and twenty six major moderns from Adorno to Spivak This book includes key concepts biography survey of work bibliography of primary texts and a bibliography of secondary criticism Adapted from Theory for Religious Studies by William E Deal and Timothy K Beal Ostension Chad Engelland, 2014-10-31 An examination of the role of ostension the bodily manifestation of intention in word learning and an investigation of the philosophical puzzles it poses Ostension is bodily movement that manifests our engagement with things whether we wish it to or not Gestures glances facial expressions all betray our interest in something Ostension enables our first word learning providing infants with a prelinguistic way to grasp the meaning of words Ostension is philosophically puzzling it cuts across domains seemingly unbridgeable public private inner outer mind body In this book Chad Engelland offers a philosophical investigation of ostension and its role in word learning by infants Engelland discusses ostension distinguishing it from ostensive definition in contemporary philosophy examining accounts by Quine Davidson and Gadamer and he explores relevant empirical findings in psychology evolutionary anthropology and neuroscience He offers original studies of four representative historical thinkers whose work enriches the understanding of ostension Wittgenstein Merleau Ponty Augustine and Aristotle And building on these philosophical and empirical foundations Engelland offers a meticulous analysis of the philosophical issues raised by ostension He examines the phenomenological problem of whether embodied intentions are manifest or inferred the problem of what concept of mind allows ostensive cues to be intersubjectively available the epistemological problem of how ostensive cues notoriously ambiguous can be correctly understood and the metaphysical problem of the ultimate status of the key terms in his argument animate movement language and mind Finally he argues for the centrality of manifestation in philosophy Taking ostension seriously he proposes has far reaching implications for thinking about language and the practice of philosophy Merleau-Ponty's Phenomenology Kirk M. Besmer, 2007 This innovative interpretation of central themes in Merleau Ponty offers detailed treatment of texts and themes that are often ignored and lays new emphasis on Merleau Ponty's understanding of language providing a fresh reading of this key figure Advancing Phenomenology Thomas Nenon, Philip Blosser, 2010-09-08 Philip Blosser and Thomas Nenon The essays in the volume were assembled in honor of Lester Embree who celebrated his 70th birthday on January 9 2008 A preview of this volume was presented to Professor Embree at a reception sponsored by the Center for Advanced Research in Phenomenology that was held in his honor at the 2008 meeting of the Husserl Circle at Marquette University in Milwaukee Wisconsin The title Advancing Phenomenology is purposely ambiguous On the one hand these essays document the progress that phenomenology as an ongoing and vibrant movement has made in the period of over a century since its inception. They illustrate the advance of phenomenology both in terms of the range of topics represented in this volume and in terms of the disciplinary and geographical diversity of the scholars who have contributed to it. The topics range from scholarly appropriations of past achievements in phenomenology to concrete phenomenological investigations into ethics, gender and environmental philosophy as well as phenomenological reflections on the foundations of disciplines outside philosophy such as psychology, history, the social sciences and archeology. The contributors come both from philosophy departments and from a number of disciplines outside of philosophy such as sociology, psychology and archeology, and they come from all around the world from North America, from Western and Eastern Europe, from Latin America and from several different countries in Asia.

Questioning Sexuality Gavin Rae, 2024-08-31 Western thinking on sexuality has historically affirmed not only a binary division between two sexes, each of which is defined by unique fixed attributes that delineate its essence, but also a privileging of the masculine over the feminine and heteronormative relations over alternatives. By engaging with psychoanalytic theory, phenomenology, feminist and gender theory, and the new materialisms, Gavin Rae shows how this model came under sustained and heterogeneous attack in the twentieth century. Rather than affirm one of these critical trajectories, Rae rethinks the problematic by turning to Walter Benjamin's notion of concepts as constellations to develop an alternative model called sexuality as constellation.

Horizons of Phenomenology Jeff Yoshimi, Philip Walsh, Patrick Londen, 2023-04-11 This is an open access book which explores phenomenology as both an exceptionally diverse movement in philosophy as well as an active research method that crosses disciplinary boundaries. The volume brings together lively overviews of major areas and schools of phenomenology as well as the most recent applications across a range of fields. The first part reviews the state of the art in various areas of contemporary phenomenology, including several distinct schools of Husserl and Heidegger scholarship as well as approaches derived from Merleau-Ponty, de Beauvoir, Fanon, and others. An innovative quantitative analysis of citation networks provides rich visualizations of the field as a whole. The second part showcases phenomenology as a living discipline that can advance research in other areas. While some areas of interaction between phenomenology and other disciplines are by now well established, e.g. cognitive science, this volume sheds light on newer areas of application. The goal is to move beyond discussions of philosophical method and highlight scholars who are actually doing phenomenology in a variety of areas, including Embodiment and questions of gender, race, and identity. The arts, visual art, literature, architecture, and Archaeology and anthropology. This volume offers a concise introduction to cutting edge phenomenological research and is suitable for both students and specialists.
