Planning Models Aura Reggiani, Kenneth Button, Peter Nijkamp, 2006 While planning involves seeking ways of influencing future behavior it is important to have at the outset an abstraction of the world upon which to base an assessment of outcomes The papers in this collection represent some of the major works in the field of planning models with land use planning as a core theme The collection is divided into several parts Part 1 focuses on location models and embraces a series of classic survey papers as well as a number of more specific contributions covering such topics as the distribution of residential activities This is followed in part 2 by papers concerned with spatial interaction and in particular the gravity model Part 3 of the collection contains papers on micro macro models that look at ways of moving from individual to collective behavior whilst part 4 is concerned with dynamic models Part 5 of the volume reflects an increasing interest in the role of various networks in the formulation of plans and finally part 6 completes the volume with a selection of policy planning models

Regional Science Matters Peter Nijkamp,Adam Rose,Karima Kourtiti,2014-11-20 This volume is a collection of fresh and novel contributions to regional science They commemorate the scientific inheritance of the founding father of regional science the late Walter Isard All papers are written by well known scholars in the field and serve to highlight the great importance of regional science theory and methodology for a better understanding of current spatial and environmental problems throughout our planet The book showcases a multidisciplinary panorama of modern regional science research and presents new insights by applying regional science approaches

Secondary Impacts of Transportation and Wastewater Investments S. E. Bascom,K. G. Cooper,M. P. Howell,A. C. Makrides,F. T.
