designed to make any aspect of the history of Internet search easy to find with a couple of mouse clicks The book s author Bart Milner is a trained technology journalist and editor who started using the Web in 1984 with a 300 baud acoustic coupler and then became a developer partly to try and solve the question of why computer logic has been unable to deal with meaning and association This background has given him an insight into the inspired but almost accidental way that Google s founders cracked the problem of finding a significant document from billions of unindexed and changing Web pages in a fraction of a second Anyone interested in the future of the Internet and Information Technology should enjoy this fast and fluid story of a company which has become a flagship business of the 21st century by not conceding any of its integrity and principles to the huge pressures of commercial profit whilst providing some of the most elegant and powerful engineering solutions ever seen on the Net Searching 2.0 Michael P. Sauers,2009 This book will show one in simple non technical terms how to integrate the invisible Web into teaching opportunities wherever they occur in a one on one teaching moment at the reference desk or in a formal course Estimated at 500 times the size of the visible Web the invisible Web and the search skills needed to plumb its depths should be a part of every information literacy and research skills course With this book one get expert teaching tips and scripts for informal instruction plus model activities and assignments for the classroom Statistics and summaries of relevant research will help one combat myths like Searching Is Easy or Everything Important Is Free Read this book too to find out how how the best deep Web search tools including CompletePlanet Closer Look and the Librarians Internet Index are evolving and what it all means for one s library s future electronic collection development plans
