Academic chairs especially those recently appointed struggle with leadership and management. Many have little prior experience in these areas. The material presented here is practical and specific. Each chapter is independent of the others and the text can be used mostly as a reference tool. The text deals with the major issues facing academic Radiology leaders. The topics selected were chosen carefully and are based on the authors collective years of experience attempting to manage their own department but also consult for many others. The first topic is the balance among the three primary missions of an academic department namely clinical care teaching and research. These three major missions will be described in some depth with an effort to provide reference materials that hopefully will stand the test of time and remain useful over the years to come.
