Dear Ms Johns,

As an NHS Registered Nurse with 10 years of experience, I know I'll be an excellent fit for your hospice.

I've provided extensive palliative care throughout my career, including managing pain symptoms and addressing patients' emotional needs. In my previous role, I was able to reduce patient readmission rates by 15% through proactive care planning and follow-up.

I'm also experienced in dealing with emergency medical situations, having successfully managed over 50 critical cases in the past year alone. In addition, I have provided emotional support to patients' friends and family, resulting in an overall increase of 30% in positive feedback from families going through these hard times. All of these traits make me perfect for the position.

I'm looking forward to hearing from you. You can contact me on 07123 456 789 to schedule an interview.

Yours sincerely,
Bridget Williams

it in the trash But how do you write the kind of amazing cover letter that will get you in the door How can you create a narrative of your professional experience that makes the HR person sit up and take notice The key is knowing how to present yourself It does not matter if you've spent 30 years in the work force or are just entering it the fact remains that you need to learn to how convince someone else to interview you MEET THE AUTHOR The Hyperink Team works hard to bring you high quality engaging fun content If ever you have any questions about our products or suggestions for how we can make them better please don't hesitate to contact us Happy reading EXCERPT FROM THE BOOK You've probably figured out a few mistakes to avoid already but you'd probably be surprised at what many employers are turned off by when reading cover letters Lack of proofreading This is a no brainer but many people often miss them or don't bother to spell check before sending out the cover letter and resume It's always a good idea to ask a friend or family member to check your letter for spelling errors and typos to give you a fresh perspective Not including the name of the hiring manager If you don't know who is going to read your cover letter and resume try to find out When in doubt call the company and ask who the person in charge of that department is so you can target your letter appropriately Not writing to an audience Focus each letter on each employer According to Career Builder 44 percent of executives polled said it's common for applicants to use their cover letters to show they've learned more about the job Doing so can give you an edge against the competition Failing to sell yourself If you undersell your skills and qualifications you won't make an impression on the reader Don't just talk about your accomplishments give concrete examples Regurgitating the resume Cover letters weren't meant as a tool to repeat everything that's in your resume It's a tool to build on it and an opportunity to correlate your experience with the job you're applying for Include any training classes awards and recognition you've received in the past that might give you an edge over the competition Buy a copy to keep reading
