Shopping Our Way to Safety Andrew Szasz, 2007-11-15 Not long ago people did not worry about the food they ate They did not worry about the water they drank or the air they breathed It never occurred to them that eating drinking water satisfying basic mundane bodily needs might be a dangerous thing to do Parents thought it was good for their kids to go outside get some sun That's all changed now from the Introduction Many Americans today rightly fear that they are constantly exposed to dangerous toxins in their immediate environment tap water is contaminated with chemicals foods contain pesticide residues hormones and antibiotics even the air we breathe outside and indoors carries invisible poisons Yet we have responded not by pushing for governmental regulation but instead by shopping What accounts for this swift and dramatic response And what are its unintended consequences Andrew Szasz examines this phenomenon in Shopping Our Way to Safety Within a couple of decades he reveals bottled water and water filters organic food green household cleaners and personal hygiene products and natural bedding and clothing have gone from being marginal niche commodities to becoming mass consumer items Szasz sees these fatalistic individual responses to collective environmental threats as an inverted form of quarantine aiming to shut the healthy individual in and the threatening world out Sharply critiquing these products effectiveness as well as the unforeseen political consequences of relying on them to keep us safe from harm Szasz argues that when consumers believe that they are indeed buying a defense from environmental hazards they feel less urgency to actually do something to fix them To achieve real protection real security he concludes we must give up the illusion of individual solutions and together seek substantive reform Andrew Szasz is professor and chair of the department of sociology at the University of California at Santa Cruz and author of the award winning EcoPopulism Minnesota 1994

Why Did Yahweh and His Son Yahshuah Say What They Said? Dr. Justin G. Prock,2020-05-07 YAHWEH The LORD God and His Son YAHSHUAH Jesus Christ made statements with regard to Eschatology that have been Spiritualized for over a Millennium which has led to the belief in Universalism the belief that YAHSHUAH died for EVERYONE Well after one studies the original languages of the Hebrew Aramaic and Greek the message of the Kingdom of God was preached to and accepted by a certain House in the Bible The other House rejected this message and YAHSHUAH punished that House by taking the Kingdom away from them and giving It to another nation bringing forth fruit There are only the House of Israel the House of Judah and the House of David mentioned in the Bible All three existed then as they do today However most of today s Babylonian Priesthood Churchianity refuses to accept the secular historical position with regard to the House of Israel and who they are today The people groups which YAHWEH and YAHSHUAH addressed still exist today However these people are all mixed up and known by different names but they DO exist This book goes back to the origin of these people groups in the Bible and brings them forward to the present using their old names in order to understand Eschatology This brings us to the major question of Is the Bible only about Israel And if so how does it affect our Eschatology today This book answers these hard questions The North American Review ,1893 AB Bookman's Weekly ,1998 Bracing for the Apocalypse Anna Maria Bounds,2020-06-04 Increasing American fear about terrorism environmental catastrophes pandemics and economic crises has fueled interest in prepping confronting disaster by mastering survivalist skills This trend of self reliance is not merely evidence of the American belief in the power of the individual rather this pragmatic shift away from expecting government aid during a disaster reflects a weakened belief in the bond between government and its citizens during a time of crisis This ethnographic study explores the rise of the urban preppers subculture in New York City shedding light on the distinctive approach of city dwellers in preparing for disaster With attention to the role of factors such as class race gender and one s expectations of government it shows that how one imagines Doomsday affects how one prepares for it Drawing on participant observation the author explores preppers views on the central question of whether to bug out or hunker down in the event of disaster and examines the ways in which the prepper economy increases revenue by targeting concerns over developing skills building networks securing equipment and arranging a safe locale A rich qualitative study Bracing for the Apocalypse will appeal to scholars of sociology and anthropology with interests in urban studies ethnography and subcultures The Official Guide of the Railways and Steam Navigation Lines of the United States, Porto Rico, Canada, Mexico and Cuba ,1881 North-American Review and Miscellaneous Journal ,1893 The Indicator ,1884 The Millenium Bug Mark A.
