Old Woodworking Machine Manuals:

Vintage Woodworking Machinery Dana Martin Batory, 2004-10-01 Here is the second volume in Dana Batory's series of guides to the major woodworking machinery manufacturers of the 19th and 20th centuries. Covered in this volume are Parks Machine Co, the Boice Crane Co, Baxter D. Whitney, and Crescent. Whitney was famous for its thickness planers and spindle shapers as well as for a large collection of cooperage machines and Crescent won renown for its bandsaws and table saws and for its Universal Wood Worker a combination machine. As in his first volume the author provides a history of each manufacturer as well as a description of the evolution of its product lines over the years. Accompanying the histories are many illustrations taken from the catalogs of the period. This is a mine of information about old woodworking machines and the companies that made them.

That's why you'll want to review this exhaustive resource. It features chapters on band saw basics, saw shopping, choosing the blade to suit your needs, sawing straight and curved cuts, and more. You'll see lessons for creating jigs and fixtures like an expert. But most of all, you'll know you're in the trusted hands of an expert who knows every detail of what it takes to create the best band saw creations possible.
