Glioblastoma: State of the Art and Future Perspectives Ghazaleh Tabatabai, Hiroaki Wakimoto, 2020-12-10 Glioblastoma is an aggressive, incurable primary tumor of the central nervous system. Median overall survival is in the range of 1-5 years even in selected clinical trial populations. Many features contribute to this therapeutic challenge, including high intratumoral and intertumoral heterogeneity, resistance to therapy, migration and invasion, immunosuppression. With the access of novel high-throughput technologies, significant progress has been made to understand molecular and immunological signatures underlying the pathology of glioblastoma. Clinical trial designs have shifted from investigating broad one-for-all treatment approaches to precision oncology designs. The collection of contributions in this book aims at providing researchers and clinicians an update on different aspects of glioblastoma, i.e. progress in basic preclinical and clinical research.

Lasers in the Conservation of Artworks XIII Salvatore Siano, Daniele Ciofini, 2023-11-03 Light allows us not only to see the works of art but also to take care of them and preserve them for future generations through diagnosis of the degradation and deterioration phenomena, conservation treatments, and monitoring based on light-material interaction processes. Recent progress on this subject was discussed during the 13th International Conference on Lasers in the Conservation of Artworks LACONA XIII, Florence, Italy, 12-16 September 2022. This volume includes selected contributions presented at the conference on preservation topics, photonic techniques, and optimization methods. In particular, the papers focus on the development and use of innovative spectroscopic and imaging characterization techniques, the diagnostic knowledge of important artworks, and the optimization of the laser solution for preserving a growing variety of cultural assets such as stone and metal artefacts, painted surfaces, textile, feather, and plastic artefacts. Lasers in the Conservation of Artworks XIII aims at scholars and operators of the community of preservation of cultural heritage, at teachers and students of training courses on diagnostic and conservation methods, applied physics and chemistry, as well as archaeology and art history.

Genomics and Models of Nerve Sheath Tumors Angela C. Hirbe, Christine A. Pratilas, Rebecca D. Dodd, 2020-11-18 Nerve sheath tumors can be a significant cause of morbidity for many patients. These include benign tumors such as schwannomas, diffuse and plexiform neurofibromas and atypical neurofibromas as well as the aggressive soft tissue sarcoma known as the malignant peripheral nerve sheath tumor MPNST Nerve sheath tumors occur sporadically and in the context of the clinical neuro genetic tumor predisposition syndromes neurofibromatosis type 1 NF1 and type 2 NF2 Historically the mainstay of treatment for nerve sheath tumors has been surgery However for both benign and malignant nerve sheath tumors there is a high recurrence rate highlighting the pressing need for novel therapies As we have entered the genomic era the hope is that an improved understanding of the genetics and therefore the biology of these tumors will ultimately lead to therapies that result in better outcomes In this Special Issue we include both review articles and original research related to the genomic understanding and modeling of schwannomas plexiform and diffuse neurofibromas atypical neurofibromas and malignant peripheral nerve sheath tumors as well as genomic methods being developed and applied to advance our understanding of these tumors
