The 9/11 Commission Report: Complete Edition Thomas R. Eldridge, Susan Ginsburg, Walter T. Hempel II, Janice L. Kephart, Kelly Moore, Joanne M. Accolla, The National Commission on Terrorist Attacks Upon the United States, 2018-03-21

The Commission's Final Report provides a full and complete account of the circumstances surrounding the September 11th 2001 terrorist attacks including preparedness for and the immediate response to the attacks. It also includes recommendations designed to guard against future attacks. Below you will find the official Government edition of the Final Report of the National Commission on Terrorist Attacks Upon the United States.

The Securitization of Memorial Space Nicholas S. Paliewicz, Marouf Hasian, Jr., 2019-11

The Securitization of Memorial Space argues that the National September 11 Memorial and Memorial Museum is a securitized site of memory what Foucault called a dispositif that polices visitors and publics to remember trauma darkness and victimage in ways that perpetuate the necessity of the Global War on Terrorism. Contributing to studies in public memory rhetoric and argumentation and critical security studies Nicholas S. Paliewicz and Marouf Hasian Jr show how various human and nonhuman actors participated in complicated argumentative formations that have mobilized political performative and militaristic practices of anti terroristic violence in other parts of the world. While there were times that certain argumentative stakeholders such as local New Yorkers questioned the necessity of securitizing this site of memory agentic factions including the families of those who died on 9 11 public supporters security agents and politicians created an ideologically oriented security assemblage that remembers 9 11 through counter terroristic performances at Ground Zero. In chronological order from the 2001 dustbowl to the present popularization of 9 11 memories the authors present seven chapters of rich rhetorical analysis that show how the National September 11 Memorial and Memorial Museum perpetuates grief uncertainty and angst that affects public memory in multidirectional ways.

The 9/11 Commission Report Thomas R. Eldridge, Susan Ginsburg, Walter T. Hempel II, Janice L. Kephart, Kelly Moore, Joanne M. Accolla, The National Commission on Terrorist Attacks Upon the United States, 2018-02-05

It is perhaps obvious to state that terrorists cannot plan and carry out attacks in the United States if they are unable to enter the country. Yet prior to September 11 while there were efforts to enhance border security no agency of the U S government thought of border security as a tool in the counterterrorism arsenal. Indeed even after 19 hijackers demonstrated the relative ease of obtaining a U S visa and gaining admission into the United States border security still is not considered a cornerstone of national security policy. We believe for reasons we discuss in the following pages that it must be made one.

Essays address dance in a wider range of contexts onstage on screen in the studio and on the street and deploy methods from diverse disciplines. Engaging African American and African diasporic studies, Latinx and Latin American studies, gender and sexuality studies, and Asian American and Asian studies, this anthology demonstrates the relevance of dance analysis to adjacent fields. The Routledge Companion to Design Studies Penny Sparke, Fiona Fisher, 2016-06-17

Since the 1990s in response to dramatic transformations in the worlds of technology and the economy, design, a once relatively definable discipline complete with a set of sub disciplines, has become unrecognizable. Consequently, design scholars have begun to address new issues, themes, and sub disciplines such as sustainable design, design for well-being, empathic design, design activism, design anthropology, and many more. The Routledge Companion to Design Studies charts this new expanded spectrum and embraces the wide range of scholarship relating to design, theoretical, practice, related, and historical, that has emerged over the last four decades.

Comprised of forty three newly commissioned essays, the Companion is organized into the following six sections: Defining Design, Discipline, Process, Defining Design Objects, Spaces, Designing Identities, Gender, Sexuality, Age, Nation, Designing Society, Empathy, Responsibility, Consumption, the Everyday, Design and Politics, Activism, Intervention, Regulation, Designing the World, Globalization, Transnationalism, Translation. Contributors include both established and emerging scholars and the essays offer an international scope, covering work emanating from and relating to design in the United Kingdom, mainland Europe, North America, Asia, Australasia, and Africa. This comprehensive collection makes an original and significant contribution to the field of Design Studies.

Policing within the Law John Etero, 2003-07-30 At a time when police abuses and errors make the headlines, it is important to understand just what goes into the decisions that police make when they are confronted with various crime scenarios in the line of duty. Required to respond within the law, many officers are able to respond in a legal manner to crime situations in which court decisions are written clearly and with easily applied guidelines. But what happens when those decisions and laws are written in a way that invites interpretation and varies from situation to situation? Based on a case study of New York City police officers, this important volume analyzes how officers contend with often ambiguous laws in the face of specific crime scenarios. In addition, the author explores other influences on police decision making, including officer characteristics and attitudes, and makes policy recommendations in an effort to encourage the reinforcement of legal guidelines so that the rights of individuals are appropriately balanced with the duty to control crime. Based on a survey of nearly 1,300 officers' responses to specially designed hypothetical crime scenarios, this study illustrates how police officers are likely to react with regard to the law in these situations While officers tend to act legally where the laws are clear less clearly articulated laws leave the police with a variety of different options for action in ambiguous situations For instance in weapons scenarios the survey showed that officers would often take advantage of ambiguity in the law with regard to how they may respond In drug scenarios officers will increase their tendency to do a search if the situation is slightly ambiguous though they will decrease their search responses when the situation appears to be highly ambiguous Eterno carefully examines the various responses and the laws that are meant to guide what police may or may not do in given situations concluding that better laws and bright line rules will help to check and balance the need to fight crime aggressively while preventing the abuse of authority that may arise in questionable circumstances 11-Sep
