Oceanography From Space

Oceanography from Space J. F. Gower, 2013-03-07 This volume is based on the proceedings of the COSPAR SCOR IUCRM Symposium Oceanography From Space held in May 1980 in Venice Italy COSPAR The Committee for Space Research suggested holding a joint symposium with SCOR The Scientific Committee for Oceanic Research as a major review of space oceanography Since this meeting fitted well with a series of colloquia organized by the IUCRM The Inter Union Commission on Radio Meteorology these three bodies joined in sponsoring the meeting The conference was held 16 years after the first discussions of possible spaceborne observations of the ocean at a meeting organized in 1964 in Woods Hole Gifford Ewing was then keen to see oceanography benefit from the new satellite technology being developed and he begins this volume by noting that most of the suggestions put forward in 1964 have now at last been successfully demonstrated in practice The papers that follow show the variety of measurement techniques available or possible and many of the types of studies in which they can be used Papers are arranged in a general section and in 6 specialized sections each of which starts with a brief introduction summarizing important results

Discovering the Ocean from Space Ian S. Robinson, 2010-08-12 This book offers a survey of the contribution of satellite data to the study of the ocean focusing on the special insights that only satellite data can bring to oceanography Topics range from ocean waves to ocean biology spanning scales from basins to estuaries Some chapters cover applications to pure research while others show how satellite data can be used operationally for tasks such as pollution monitoring or oil spill detection

Measuring the Oceans from Space Ian S. Robinson, 2004-06-30 This book covers the fundamental principles of measuring oceans from space and also contains state of the art developments in data analysis and interpretation and in sensors Completely new will be material covering advances in oceanography that have grown out of remote sensing including some of the global applications of the data The variety of applications of remotely sensed data to ocean science has grown significantly and new areas of science are emerging to exploit the global datasets being recovered by satellites particularly in relation to climate and climate change basin scale air sea interaction processes e g El Nino and the modelling forecasting and prediction of the ocean

Oceanography from Space Vittorio Barale, J.F.R. Gower, L. Alberotanza, 2014-11-06 To all those sailors Who dreamed before us Of another way to sail the oceans The dedication of this Volume is meant to recall and honour the bold pioneers of ocean exploration ancient as well as modern As a marine scientist dealing with the oceans through the complex tools filters and mechanisms of contemporary research I have always wondered what it was like in centuries past to look at that vast horizon with the naked eye not knowing what was ahead and yet to sail on I have tried to imagine what ancient sailors felt when the unknown swirls around and engulfs the mind as a forgotten author simply described the brave perhaps reckless act of facing such a hostile menacing and yet fascinating adventure Innovation has always been the key element I think for their success another way a better way a more effective safer and worthier way was the proper answer to the challenge The map of our world has been changed time and again from the geographical as well as the social economic and scientific points of view by the new discoveries of those sailors One of the positive qualities of human beings is without doubt the inborn desire to expand their horizons to see what lies beyond to learn and understand Oceanography from Space J. Discovering the Ocean from Space Ian Stuart Robinson, 2010 Introduction to satellite oceanography G.A. Maul, 1984-11-30 Satellite oceanography as the term is used in this book is a generic term that means application of the technology of aerospace electromagnetic remote sensing to the study of the oceans The key words here are application of technology to the study of the oceans The goal is to learn more about our planet's hydrosphere As such remote sensing technology is another tool in the oceanographer's sea bag just like a bathythermograph or a plankton net But is a whole book necessary if remote sensing is just another tool While it is true that no one has written a whole book on plankton nets volumes have been written about what is found in those nets Today's state of the art measurements from spacecraft or aircraft first must be interpreted in terms of their physics then the interpretations must be understood in terms of oceanic processes This is not materially different from the analogy to the plankton net marine biologists still argue about what didn't get caught in the net Introduction to Satellite Oceanography George A. Maul, 1985 Satellite Oceanography I. S. Robinson, 1995-11-09 A broad general introduction to remote sensing and its applications in oceanography Designed to provide specialists with a sufficient depth of information necessary to understand oceanographic remote sensing processes and applications and non specialists with the breadth of information necessary to understand how remote sensing makes a contribution to marine science Provides an overview of all types of satellite remote sensing in ocean study visible infrared and microwave frequencies and both active and passive sensors Also offers remote sensing specialists the information required to assess the needs and perspectives of oceanographers Space Oceanography: An Intensive Course Arthur P Cracknell, 1992-09-16 The advent of Earth observing satellites has revolutionised the gathering of oceanographic data and the visualisation of oceanographic processes This course was for postgraduate students and young post doctoral research workers and covered the instruments and satellite systems used to gather visible infrared and microwave data over the oceans It also covered the uses of these various types of data to provide information about ocean colour biological productivity surface temperature currents and circulation patterns near surface windspeeds bottom topography and the geoid Space Remote Sensing of Subtropical Oceans (SRSSO) Cho-Teng Liu, 1997-07-29 This volume contains the proceedings from the COSPAR Colloquium on Space Remote Sensing of Subtropical Oceans which took place between 12 and 16 September 1996 at the Institute of Oceanography of the National Taiwan University Included are contributions addressing the issue from scientific points of view of why the first scientific satellite of Taiwan ROCSAT 1 should be equipped with the Ocean Colour Imager OCI for oceanographic investigations Oceanography from Space: Proposed measurements and
