recent years by The Broad Foundation whose annual award is granted each year to the urban school districts that demonstrate the greatest overall performance and improvement in student achievement while reducing achievement gaps among poor and minority students Heather Zavadsky examines five Broad Prize winners Long Beach Unified School District Garden Grove Unified School District Norfolk Public Schools Boston Public Schools and Aldine Independent School District As she notes the successes highlighted in this book do not represent one year positive performance blips in these districts and this book does not provide a list of best practice silver bullets that sound effective but cannot be applied outside a unique context Rather the book describes the paths these districts have taken over years of intentional sustained patient focus on improving teaching and learning that fully aligns instructional practices across all organizational levels of a school system something that can be done in any district given the right knowledge and tools Bringing School Reform to Scale is a volume in the Educational Innovations series This book offers an unusually detailed look inside some of our best run school districts Heather Zavadsky offers honest assessments highlighting not only the inspiring successes but also the many daunting challenges that remain Very enlightening Ronald F Ferguson faculty cochair and director of the Achievement Gap Initiative Harvard University Bringing School Reform to Scale highlights the practices in five districts that won the prestigious Broad Prize and shows how important fundamentals of good practices including rigorous standards aligned curriculum and smart investments in human capital can lead to great schools and successful districts Mark Schneider vice president American Institutes for Research former commissioner of the National Center for Education Statistics The media are good at spotlighting random school successes education reforms that subsequently seem to evaporate Why is it so difficult to sustain and spread productive change from school system to school system The answers to these questions are crucial and Bringing School Reform to Scale is a powerful contribution to an accumulation of knowledge regarding these issues James W Guthrie Patricia and Rodes Hart Professor of Educational Leadership and Policy Vanderbilt University The analysis of the five high performing districts points to practices beliefs systems and structures that have led to dramatic turnarounds The compilation of this work provides a road map toward scalable reform William R Hite superintendent Prince George's County Public Schools Maryland Heather Zavadsky is director of policy and communications at the Institute for Public School Initiatives for the University of Texas system The Collaborative Teacher Cassandra Erkens, 2008 Transform education from inside the classroom This book delivers best practices of collaborative teacher leadership supporting the strategies with research and real classroom stories Teacher Agency in the Process of State Mandated Reform Kyle C. Ruggles, 2009 Under No Child Left Behind NCLB federally funded schools and Local Educational Agencies LEAs that do not meet Adequate Yearly Progress AYP criteria for two consecutive years are designated Program Improvement PI mandating participation in school reform interventions In February 2008 the California Department of Education CDE released a corrective action plan mandate requiring all LEAs or school districts in Year 3 of PI to participate in intensive moderate light or other levels of technical support that includes participation in the District Assistance and Intervention Team DAIT process. The DAIT process brings outside consultants and district office administrators into schools and classrooms for regular walkthroughs and assessments of improvement plan implementation. Yet little is known about how these state mandates influence teachers instructional practices and decision making power or agency. This study explores teachers perceptions of the DAIT process and how agency is influenced in an urban fringe pre kindergarten through grade 8 PI school district in California that volunteered to pilot the DAIT process during the 2006-2009 school years. The socio cultural theory of learning Gallucci 2003 and the principal agent theory Ferris 1992 guide the analysis of this embedded and longitudinal multi case study of three middle schools and the district office within the PI school district. Rich thick qualitative descriptions from 24 teachers and five district office administrators engaged in state mandated reform emerge from the single case and cross case analyses. Teachers perceive the DAIT feedback as vague and lacking in teacher involvement in classroom visitations which led to teachers viewing the process as superficial. Yet teachers also considered the DAIT process as beneficial in increasing teacher team reflection and collaboration around a singular common instructional focus of reading comprehension which seemed to be positively associated with agency. A variance of teacher agency levels was found to depend upon school context and how teachers perceived themselves while balancing the costs and benefits from DAIT feedback. Findings also reveal that the DAIT process may have compromised teacher agency due to the lack of teacher participation and involvement in the development of the process potentially eroding teachers sense of professionalism.
