One Is Enough African Women Writers Series:

One is enough Flora Nwapa, 1995 Feminism and Modernity in Anglophone African Women's Writing Dobrota Pucherová, 2022-07-29 This book re-reads the last 60 years of Anglophone African women's writing from a transnational and trans-historical feminist perspective rather than postcolonial from which these texts have been traditionally interpreted. Such a comparative frame throws into relief patterns across time and space that make it possible to situate this writing as an integral part of women's literary history. Revisiting this literature in a comparative context with Western women writers since the 18th century, the author highlights how invocations of tradition have been used by patriarchy everywhere to subjugate women. The similarities between women's struggles worldwide and the feminist imagination it produced. The author argues that in the 21st century African feminism has undergone a major epistemic shift from a culturally exclusive to a relational feminism that conceptualizes African femininity through the risky opening of oneself to otherness, transculturation and translation. Like Western feminists in the 1960s, contemporary African women writers are turning their attention to the female body as the prime site of women's oppression and freedom, reframing feminism as a demand for universal human rights and actively shaping global discourses on gender, modernity and democracy. The book will be of interest to students and researchers of African literature but also feminist literary scholars and comparatists more generally. Postcolonial African Writers Siga Fatima Jagne, Pushpa Naidu Parekh, 2012-11-12 This reference book surveys the richness of postcolonial African literature. The volume begins with an introductory essay on postcolonial criticism and African writing, then presents alphabetically arranged profiles of some 60 writers including Chinua Achebe, Nadine Gordimer, Bessie Head, Doris Lessing, Tsitsi Dangaremba, Tahar Ben Jelloun among others. Each entry includes a brief biography, a discussion of major works and themes that appear in the author's writings, an overview of the critical response to the author's work and a bibliography of primary and secondary sources. These profiles are written by expert contributors and reflect many different perspectives. The volume concludes with a selected general bibliography of the most important critical works on postcolonial African literature. Gender in African Women's Writing Juliana Makuchi Nfah-Abbenyi, 1997-12-22 This is a cogent analysis of the complexities of gender in the work of nine contemporary Anglophone and Francophone novelists, offering illuminating interpretations of worthy writers. Multicultural Review This book reaffirms Bessie Head's remark that books are a tool in this case, a tool that allows readers to understand better the rich lives and the condition of African women. Excellent notes and a rich bibliography. Choice a college-level analysis which will appeal to any interested in African studies and literature. The Bookwatch This book applies gender as a category of analysis to the works of nine sub-Saharan women writers: Aidoo, B. Beyala, Dangaremba, Emecheta, Head, Liking, Tlali and Zanga Tsogo. The author appropriates western feminist theories of gender in an African literary context and in the process she finds and names critical theory that is African indigenous self-determining, which she then melds with western feminist theory and comes out with an overarching theory that enriches western post colonial and African critical perspectives Joint Acquisitions List of Africana ,1995 West African Literatures Stephanie Newell,2006-06-08 The Oxford Studies in Postcolonial Literatures series general editor Elleke Boehmer offers stimulating and accessible introductions to definitive topics and key genres and regions within the rapidly diversifying field of postcolonial literary studies in English This study of West African literatures interweaves the analysis of fiction drama and poetry with an exploration of the broader political cultural and intellectual contexts within which West African writers work Anglophone literatures form the central focus of the book with comparative comments on vernacular literature francophone writing and oral literatures and detailed discussion of selected francophone texts in translation e g Senghor Tadjó Beyala B Sembene Moving from a discussion of nationalist and anti colonial writing in the period before independence towards the more experimental writings of contemporary authors such as Vronique Tadjó Ivory Coast Syl Cheney Coker Sierra Leone and Kojo Laing Ghana the book constantly relates texts to the social and political history of West Africa Canonical internationally well known writers such as Chinua Achebe and Wole Soyinka are positioned in relation to the literary cultures and debates which surrounded them when they first produced their seminal texts the discussions and disagreements which have grown up around their work in subsequent decades are also considered The work of new and lesser known writers is also considered including Niyi Osundare Nigeria and Kofi Anyidoho Ghana In order to convey a sense of the rich and complex societies that are clustered beneath the umbrella term postcolonial emphasis is placed on West Africa's diverse oral and popular cultures and the ways in which local intellectuals and readers have responded to the most prominent authors through the aesthetic frameworks generated by these forms Postcolonial Perspectives on Women Writers from Africa, the Caribbean, and the US Martin Japtok,2003 Combining postcolonial perspectives with race and culture based studies which have merged the fields of African and black American studies this volume concentrates on women writers exploring how the post colonial condition is reflected in women's literature The essays are united by their focus on attempts to create alternative value systems through the rewriting of history or the reclassification of the woman's position in society By examining such strategies these essays illuminate the diversity and coherence of the postcolonial project The Cambridge Guide to Women's Writing in English Lorna Sage,1999-09-30 This Guide aims to consolidate and epitomise the re-reading of women's writing that has gone on in the last twenty five years This is an opportunity for stock taking a timely project when so much writing has been rediscovered reclaimed and republished There are entries on writers on individual texts and on general terms genres and movements all printed in a single alphabetical sequence The earliest written documents in medieval English the visionary writings of Julian of Norwich and Margery Kempe are covered in an historical and geographical sweep that takes us up to the present day The book reflects the spread of literacy the history of colonisation and the development of post colonial cultures using and changing the English language The entries are written by contributors from all the countries covered The result is a work of reference with a unique feeling for the vitality wealth and diversity of women's writing The Sexual Mountain and Black Women Writers Calvin C. Hernton, 1987 A bold exploration of the controversial role that black women writers have played in the making of African American literature from the best selling author of SEX AND RACISM IN AMERICA Defining New Idioms and Alternative Forms of Expression Eckhard Breiting, 1996 This first volume of ASNEL Papers gathers together a broad range of reflections on and presentations of the social and expressive underpinnings of post colonial literary cultures concentrating on aspects of orality social structure and hybridity the role of women in cultural production performative and media representations theatre film advertising and their institutional forms and the linguistic basis of literature including questions of multilingualism pidgins and creoles and translation Some of the present studies adopt a diachronic approach as in essays devoted to European colonial influences on African literatures the populist colonial roots of Australian drama and the intersection of exogenous and autochthonous languages in the cultural development and identity formation of Cameroon Tanzania and the Swahili speaking regions of Africa Broadly synchronic perspectives which nevertheless take cognizance of developmental determinants range over dominant genres poetry short fiction and the novel children's literature theatre film and cover indigene literatures Australian Aboriginal Maori First Nations and regional creativity in West East and South Africa the Caribbean India and the South East Asian diaspora and the settler colonies of Canada Australia and New Zealand Authors treated within broader frameworks include Chinua Achebe Biyi Bandele Thomas Bole Butake Shashi Deshpande Louis Esson Lorna Goodison Patricia Grace Bland Holt Keri Hulme Witi Ihimaera Kazuo Ishiguro Rita Kleinhart Hanif Kureishi Werewere Liking Timothy Mo V S Naipaul Salman Rushdie and Ruby Slipperjack There are self testimonies from the writers Geoff Goodfellow Darrelyn Gunzburg and Don Mattera poems by David Dabydeen Geoff Goodfellow and Olive Senior Of particular value to this collection are the perspectives offered by African Caribbean and Eastern European contributors The Journalist ,1892 Africa Woman ,1975 The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art ,1893 Epoch ,1890 Sketch ,1896 Africa Quarterly ,2006 The Spectator ,1888 Women in African Literature Today Eldred D. Jones, Eustace Palmer, Marjorie Jones, 1987 This issue of African Literature Today is entirely devoted to African women writers and to the presentation of women in African Literature This is a recognition of two important facts Firstly that African women writers as a number of articles show have been neglected in male authored studies and journals Secondly that the last ten years or so have at last despite all sociological factors against them shown a blossoming of accomplished works by African women writers Running through the articles is the refrain that the cause of womanhood has been inadequately served by African male writers in their works It is maintained by Sylvia Bryan and Jennifer Evans that there are some men writers who have portrayed independent complex women characters However in the final analysis it has to be left as Katherine Frank suggests to women writers to present female characters with a destiny of their own Publisher's description The Feminist Companion to Literature in English Virginia Blain, Patricia Clements, Isobel Grundy, 1990 The first international guide to women writers in English featuring both well known and obscure women writers from the British Isles and North America as well as writers from the Caribbean the South Pacific Australia Asia and Africa It includes not only poets dramatists and novelists but also diarists translators and spiritual autobiographers Most entries are biographical but there are numerous topic entries as well This book is the fruit of research by three editors and fifty specialist consultants
