Global IT Outsourcing Sundeep Sahay, Brian Nicholson, S. Krishna, 2003-11-20 This book offers key insights into how to manage software development across international boundaries. It is based on a series of case studies looking at the relationships between firms from North America, the UK, Japan and Korea with Indian software houses. In these case studies, which have typically been compiled over a 3-4 year timespan, the authors analyse the multi-faceted challenges encountered in managing these Global Software Alliances (GSAs). These challenges range from the conflicts that managers face when dealing with distance to the tensions of transferring knowledge across time and space to issues in trying to establish universal standards in a context of constant change and the problems of identity that developers and clients experience in having to deal with different organizations and countries. Throughout the book, the authors draw on their extensive research and experience to offer constructive advice on how to manage GSAs more effectively. Entrepreneurial Creativity in a Virtual World Denise Tsang, 2015-05-29 The start of the 21st century has seen an explosion of online media with creative content becoming a driving force for competitiveness. As twin engines of the digital economy, much has been said about both creativity and entrepreneurship, but less about their relationship. Nuts & Volts, 2004 Preserving Popular Music Heritage Sarah Baker, 2015-05-01 There is a growing awareness around the world of the pressing need to archive the material remnants of popular music so as to safeguard the national and local histories of this cultural form. Current research suggests that in the past 20 or so years there has been an expansion of DIY heritage practice with the founding of numerous DIY popular music institutions, archives and museums around the world. This edited collection seeks to explore the role of DIY or Pro-Am/Professional-Amateur practitioners of popular music archiving and preservation. It looks critically at ideas around DIY preservationism, self-authorised and unauthorised heritage practice and the DIY institution while also unpacking the potentialities of bottom-up community-based interventions into the archiving and preservation of popular music's material history. With an international scope and an interdisciplinary approach, this is an important reference for scholars of popular music heritage studies and cultural studies. Cases on Internationalization Challenges for SMEs Moreira, António Carrizo, 2020-11-06 With the globalization process, firms are seeking to expand their activities to international markets but are also feeling expanded competition from abroad. Small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) though seeking to expand abroad have particularities that hinder their natural international expansion path due to particular barriers and challenges that most multinational firms have already overcome. Cases on Internationalization Challenges for SMEs provides a set of case studies on the internationalization of SMEs in order to share the latest empirical research findings in the field of internationalization in the context of a globalized world and which considers a highly competitive international business setting. This includes examining the main reasons for the success or failure of the process of internationalization of SMEs and their inherent activities. Covering topics that include competitive advantage, export performance and inward
