Nordic Light Henry Plummer, 2014 Imparts a true sense of the magical light that has shaped great buildings in Denmark Finland Norway and Sweden Scandinavian Modern Houses , 2005 Scandinavian Modern Houses , 2005*

Scandinavian Modern Houses , 2010 The Oxford Handbook of Light in Archaeology Costas Papadopoulos, Holley Moyes, 2021-12-09 The first volume of its kind to address the impact and influence of light in different facets of archaeology from myth and ritual to houses and museum exhibitions Combines theory and methodology from archaeology anthropology architecture urban design art philology and computer science Arranged in a thematic structure based on uses of light in different spatial contexts to allow quick reference to specific aspects of light in archaeology Richly illustrated throughout Book jacket Scandinavian Modern Houses 4. The Spirit of Nordic Light , 2015 Volume 4 of the book series Scandinavian modern houses contains Per Nagel's new photographs of some of the most significant Scandinavian private houses built during the twentieth century to elucidate the distinctive character of Nordic architecture and its fine interplay with the vast nature Nordic architects have developed a special awareness and sense of clarity concerning one of the most important elements for Northerners the light This sensibility for the different tonal qualities of light and the extremely conscious use of light as the most important form producing and space defining element is perhaps the most remarkable common feature of Nordic architecture The Spirit of Nordic Light The houses featured are very different in plan materials and construction Post-Western Histories of Architecture Pilar Maria Guerrieri, Marco Biraghi, 2023-06-23 This book seeks to provide an alternative post Western perspective to the history of contemporary architecture It puts forward detailed critical analyses of various areas of the world including Europe Latin America Africa China Australia India and Japan where particular movements of architecture have developed as active political acts The authors focus on a broad spectrum of countries architectures and architects that have developed a design approach closely linked to the building context The concept of context is broad and includes various economic social cultural political and natural aspects In all cases the architects selected in this book have chosen to view context as an opportunity However each architect has considered certain specific aspects of context some have been very attentive to the social context others to material aspects or typological issues and still others to aspects related to political visions or economic factors The analysis critically highlights interesting creative and respectful design approaches towards local conditions such as sustainability in Nordic Europe climate conscious design in Africa and the bottom up sensitivity of India The book's main aim is to retrace through both theoretical arguments and case studies the debate that focuses on politics and the environment Thanks to its valuable examples this book strives to make a conscious contribution to establishing a bulwark against the current flattening out processes that architecture is experiencing This book will be of relevance to researchers teachers and students interested in the history of architecture architecture and planning and postcolonial studies Scotland in 100 Buildings Roger Emmerson, 2025-05-08 Scotland in 100 Buildings by architect Roger Emmerson is a captivating journey through the architectural marvels of Scotland seen uniquely through Emmerson's personal experiences. This isn't a dry history or textbook; it's a lively, intimate account where each building tells its own story. Emmerson has visited every site featured, offering first-hand insights that bring these places to life, from iconic landmarks to hidden gems. His reflections aim to inspire readers to explore for themselves rather than simply inform, making this book easy to pick up at any page. Ideal for architecture enthusiasts, travellers, and locals alike, Scotland in 100 Buildings will appeal to anyone curious about Scotland's diverse buildings and the personal tales they inspire. It's perfect for those seeking an approachable and authentic look at Scotland's architectural legacy.

Land of Stone Roger Emmerson, 2022-12-06 Welcome to a journey of remarkable buildings and remarkable thoughts about these buildings shaped as they are by deep time, modern ideas, and Scottish culture. Readers are sure to see new vistas in the land of stone open before them. From the Foreword by PROFESSOR ANDREW PATRIZIO What makes Scottish architecture Scottish? What ideas drive Scottish architecture? What has modern architecture in Scotland meant to the Scots? Ever since the granny tops rattling and clanking in the wind to draw smoke up the tenemental flues from open coal fires caught my attention as a three-year-old, architecture and its many parts, purposes, processes, and procedures has fascinated me. For me, architecture has always had profound significance. Land of Stone seeks to disengage widely held conceptions of what a Scottish architecture superficially looks like and to focus on the ideas and events, philosophical, political, practical, and personal that inspired architects and their clients to create the cities, towns, villages, and buildings we cherish today.

Cosmos of Light Henry Plummer, 2013 One of the great visionaries and pioneers of modern architecture, Le Corbusier was a master of light, declaring it both a fundamental basis of architecture and the key to personal well-being. In this portfolio of 160 photographs taken over 40 years, Henry Plummer captures Le Corbusier's inspired use of natural light in three of his greatest achievements: the small pilgrimage chapel at Ronchamp, the Dominican monastery of Sainte Marie de La Tourette, and the parish church of Saint Pierre in Firminy Vert, all in France. In these modest religious works, Le Corbusier deploys light to create enchanted, emotionally charged spaces wedded to the cosmic rhythm of sunlight and season. Cosmos of Light reveals how the artist reimagined sacred space and charted new ways that buildings can both reveal and inhabit the universe around them.

The Experience of Architecture Henry Plummer, 2016-12-01 How does the experience of turning a door handle, opening a door from one space to lead into another, affect us? It is no wonder that the door, one of the most elemental architectural forms, has such metaphorical richness. But even on a purely physical, human level, the cold touch of a brass handle or the swish of a sliding screen gives rise to an emotional reaction, sometimes modest, occasionally profound. This book aims to understand how these everyday acts in space are influenced by architectural form, a concept that is vital for all architects to grasp if our buildings are to be anything more than a commercial or aesthetic enterprise. It considers how specific built elements and volumes, taken from a wide array of buildings and settings around the world, can sustain or deny our powers of decision. From the hand carved stairs in Greek villages to free floating catwalks from the elegant processional steps of Renaissance Italy to Frank Lloyd Wrights masterly manipulation of form from the seemingly random placement of Japanese stepping stones to the staircase in Chareaus Glass House all provide very difference experiences of stepping from one level to the next and all affect our experience of that space Each chapter focuses on a different aspect of our daily interactions with architecture looking at stairs floors and paths moving interior spaces perception and perspective transparency and the relationship between a building and its setting This book is not just for architects and designers engaged in the production of space but for all those who seek a richer understanding of their place in the built world Nordic Modernism William C Miller,2016-08-31
