Nomadic Identities The Performance Of Citizenship:

Nomadic Identities May Joseph, 1999 The Border Crossed Us Josue David Cisneros, 2014-02-28 Explores efforts to restrict and expand notions of US citizenship as they relate specifically to the US Mexico border and Latina o identity Borders and citizenship go hand in hand Borders define a nation as a territorial entity and create the parameters for national belonging But the relationship between borders and citizenship breeds perpetual anxiety over the purported sanctity of the border the security of a nation and the integrity of civic identity In The Border Crossed Us Josue David Cisneros addresses these themes as they relate to the US Mexico border arguing that issues ranging from the Mexican American War of 1846 1848 to contemporary debates about Latina o immigration and border security are negotiated rhetorically through public discourse He explores these rhetorical battles through case studies of specific Latina o struggles for civil rights and citizenship including debates about Mexican American citizenship in the 1849 California Constitutional Convention 1960s Chicana o civil rights movements and modern day immigrant activism Cisneros posits that borders both geographic and civic have crossed and recrossed Latina o communities throughout history the book s title derives from the popular activist chant We didn t cross the border the border crossed us and that Latinas in the United States have long contributed to struggled with and sought to cross or challenge the borders of belonging including race culture language and gender The Border Crossed Us illuminates the enduring significance and evolution of US borders and citizenship and provides programmatic and theoretical suggestions for the continued study of these critical issues Performing National Identities Sherrill Grace, Albert-Reiner Glaap, 2003 If you have ever wondered why the Scots love Michel Tremblay or what Sharon Pollock has to say to Japanese audiences or just how a Canadian play or being Canadian is viewed in England or the United States you should read this volume Each author holds a mirror up to Canadian theatre but the images in those mirrors differ in fascinating ways The cumulative result is a multi faceted reflection coming from some of the world s most astute critics on how Canada performs its national identities Performing National Identities is a collection of 18 original essays on contemporary Canadian theatre by scholars and drama specialists in Canada Great Britain Europe Australia and Japan The international scope of the volume reflected in its co editors Sherrill Grace from Canada Albert Reiner Glaap from Germany confirms the new importance of Canadian plays on the world stage This is the first volume of its kind and it celebrates the variety and vitality of Canadian theatre Among the playwrights whose works are discussed here are Michel Tremblay Sharon Pollock George F Walker Joan MacLeod Tomson Highway Marie Clements Michel Marc Bouchard Morris Panych Monique Mojica and Djanet Sears There are also interviews with theatre practitioners in Hungary Germany and Canada including one with the late Urjo Kareda The contributors consider many of the challenging issues addressed by contemporary Canadian playwrights issues of race and racist stereotypes of gender and violence of historical events and identity politics and all agree that Canada s playwrights mine their local or individual situations to explore universal problems It is this large vision as well as the quality of the plays that enables Canadian drama to move audiences all over the world

Blackface Cuba, 1840-1895 Jill Lane, 2005-06-22 Blackface Cuba 1840 1895 offers a critical history of the relation between racial impersonation national sentiment and the emergence of an anticolonial public sphere in nineteenth century Cuba Through a study of Cuba s vernacular theatre the teatro bufo and of related forms of music dance and literature Lane argues that blackface performance was a primary site for the development of mestizaje Cuba s racialized national ideology in which African and Cuban become simultaneously mutually exclusive and mutually formative Popular with white Cuban born audiences during the period of Cuba s anticolonial wars the teatro bufo was celebrated for combining Spanish elements with supposedly African rhythms and choreography Its wealth of short comic plays developed a well loved repertory of blackface stock characters from the negrito to the mulata played by white actors in blackface Lane contends that these practices were embraced by white audiences as especially national forms that helped define Cuba s opposition to Spain at the same time that they secured prevailing racial hierarchies for a future Cuban nation Comparing the teatro bufo to related forms of racial representation particularly those created by black Cubans in theatres and in the press Lane analyzes performance as a form of social contestation through which an emergent Cuban national community struggled over conflicting visions of race and nation

Contesting Canadian Citizenship Dorothy

Chunn, Robert Menzies, Robert Adamoski, 2002-08 Over the past 15 years the citizenship debate in political and social theory has undergone an extraordinary renaissance To date much of the writing on citizenship within and beyond Canada has been oriented toward the development of theory or has concentrated on contemporary issues and examples This collection of essays adopts a different approach by contextualizing and historicizing the citizenship debate through studies of various aspects of the rise of social citizenship in Canada Focusing on the formative years from the late 19th through mid 20th century contributors examine how emerging discourse and practices in diverse areas of Canadian social life created a widely engaged but often deeply contested vision of the new Canadian citizen The original essays examine key developments in the fields of welfare justice health childhood family immigration education labour media popular culture and recreation highlighting the contradictory nature of Canadian citizenship The implications of these projects for the daily lives of Canadians their identities and the forms of resistance that they mounted are central themes Contributing authors situate their historical accounts in both public and private domains their analyses emphasizing the mutual permeability of state and civil ian life These diverse investigations reveal that while Canadian citizenship conveys crucial images of identity security and participatory democracy within the ongoing project of nation building it is also interlaced with the projects of a hierarchical social structure and exclusionary political order This collection explores the origins and evolution of Canadian citizenship in historical context It also introduces the more general dilemmas and debates in social history and political theory that inevitably inform these inquiries

Xcp, 2001 Moving Worlds, 2005 India in Africa, Africa in India John C. Hawley, 2008-06-25 India in Africa Africa in India traces the longstanding interaction between these two regions showing that the Indian Ocean world provides many examples of cultural flows that belie our understanding of globalization as a recent phenomenon This region has had and continues to have an internal integrity that touches the lives of its citizens in their commerce their cultural exchanges and their concepts of each other and of themselves in the world These connections have deep historical roots and their dynamics are not attributable solely to the effects of European colonialism modernity or contemporary globalization although these forces have left their mark The contributors to this interdisciplinary volume come from the fields of history literature dance sociology gender studies and religion making this collection unique in its recreation of an entire world too seldom considered as such Embodying the Un/home Emily Ann Knudson-Vilaseca, 2007

Migrants and Memory Micheál Ó hAodha, 2007 This volume hopes to act as a new marker in the areas of Irish Studies and Migration Diaspora Studies It is also in part an attempt to give a voice to communities who have frequently found themselves on the margins of the so called oemainstream community the hidden Irish the hidden European the migrant the nomad that reflects the changing face of the oenew and oeimmigrant Europe The scholars and activists writing here have engaged with the questions of ethnicity identity racism cultural expression and the new historiography that characterises those newer disciplines often referred to now as Traveller Studies and Romani Studies Of particular concern to this book TM s contributors has been the necessity to address these broader issues within the context of the ever changing dynamics of representation modernisation globalisation and the construction of the modern nation state that has been the oelitmus test for many Western and Eastern European countries including Britain and more recently Ireland It is to be hoped that this collection of essays will function as a catalyst for some new and exciting areas of enquiry in the more oeliminal interstices of Irish Studies Traveller Studies Romani Studies and Diaspora and Migration Studies the latter a discipline which modern Irish society is only now beginning to interrogate on a more serious and scholarly level A New Generation of African

Writers Brenda Cooper, 2008 Brenda Cooper examines the work of the new generation of African writers who have placed migration as central to their writing There is a new interest among publishers in New York and London in books by writers of African origin These authors have often grown up or passed their early adult years out of Africa The Orange Prize for Fiction was awarded in London 2007 to Chimamanda Ngozie Adichie s Half of a Yellow Sun and the Caine Prize for African Writing has introduced new writers such as Leila Aboulela Biyi Bandele and Chimamanda Adichie herself to agents and publishers This examination of the extraordinary work which has recently appeared is therefore very timely Migration is a central theme of much African fiction written in English Here Brenda Cooper tracks the journeys undertaken by a new generation of African writers their protagonists and the solid objects that populate their fiction to depict the material realities of their multiple worlds and languages The book explores the uses to which the English language is put in order to understand these worlds It demonstrates how these writers have contested the dominance of colonising metaphors The writers challenge is to find an English that can effectively express their many lives languages and identities BRENDA COOPER is Director of the Centre for African Studies and a Professor in the Department of English Language and Literature at the University of Cape Town Southern Africa South Africa Botswana Namibia Lesotho and Swaziland University of KwaZulu Natal Press PB Africa
