New Media, New Ethics? Margaret Syverson, 2015-05-04 This book addresses a missing piece of the public conversations about ethics and digital media The chapters in this book were written by college students at the University of Texas in a course called Ethics and New Media offered in spring of 2015 and taught by Peg Syverson The chapters reflect the students deep inquiry through research on their peers reading online discussion and editorial work In its chapters college students report their research on the ethical dilemmas faced by their peers The results are provocative wide ranging and surprising They raise further questions about how we can continue to include the voices of those most affected by new media in our public discussions about ethics internet regulation appropriate use of technology by children and wise guidance from parents spiritual leaders and teachers

My Body and Other Crumbling Empires Lyndsey Medford, 2023-03-07 We are living in a world that is sick Both literally sick with 60 percent of adults in the US living with a chronic illness and rising rates of autoimmune diseases in particular including long COVID and figuratively sick facing ever increasing rates of burnout anxiety and disconnection As a writer activist and theology student Lyndsey Medford was used to critiquing unsustainable medical environmental economic and social systems from a theoretical perspective But when her autoimmune disorder roared out of remission she discovered that her own body s systems lived at the very real vortex of all those systems dysfunction Learning to cooperate with her body would require her to change every aspect of her life and in the process to seek a radical reimagining of the world from a place where sickness is an individual affliction to an interdependent ecosystem where sustainability is a community way of life In this beautiful and inspiring book Medford draws on her experiences with a rare autoimmune disease to illuminate the broader lessons we need to learn in order to heal what ails us individually and communally Whether our burnout stems from illness systemic racism poverty or simply sin s separation we re all in need of hope and we are called to heal together My Body and Other Crumbling Empires points out the beauty and ubiquity of our limitations the importance of accessibility broadly construed the interconnected nature of individual and public health and the badly needed wisdom we have gained from living with our particular bodies
