Outdoor Lighting Physics Vision And Perception:

Outdoor Lighting: Physics, Vision and Perception Duco Schreuder, 2008-08-15 The present book is based on the experience of the author The experience is mainly the result of years of research of consulting work and in participation in policy decision making in many fields most but not all related to outdoor lighting To some degree the book represents the preference of the author The selection of the subjects is based on more than 50 years of experience of what is desirable to know for persons engaged in scientific research or practical application in the fields of lighting and vision The subjects deal with a number of fundamental aspects The theorists must have them at their fingertips whereas the practical engineers may assume them as known in their daily work The selection of subjects is based in part by the questions that came to the author over the years but even more by the preference of the author himself In this respect it is a personal book Thus it should be stressed that the book is not a handbook or even a textbook many subjects that commonly are treated in such books are not included here Not because they lack importance but because the author feels that they are adequately treated elsewhere Some relevant works are mentioned in the References Over the years the author has been engaged in giving courses on vision and lighting lately more in particular on Masterclasses on a post graduate or post doctorate level The Human and Social Dimension of Urban Lightscapes Daria Casciani, 2020-11-02 This book explores new criteria and characteristics for integrating human psychology in the design of modern urban lighting It identifies a new area of lighting design research and practice that focuses on the nocturnal urban experience in terms of people's emotional cognitive and motivational perceptions to achieve more accessible sociable and sustainable cities In turn the book compares new tools and research methodologies for tackling complex issues concerning the ties between lighting people and the city Moreover it presents a series of case studies to provide an in depth understanding of the influence of urban lighting in terms of luminous atmosphere perception positive social affect social enhancement accessibility and hospitability Lastly the book proposes a multidisciplinary qualitative and quantitative methodology for assessing the spatial experience of outdoor lighting

Advances in Human Factors, Sustainable Urban Planning and Infrastructure Jerzy Charytonowicz, 2017-06-12 This book deals with human factors research directed towards realizing and assessing sustainability in the built environment It reports on advanced engineering methods for sustainable infrastructure design as well as on assessments of the efficient methods and the social environmental and economic impact of various designs and projects The book covers a range of topics including the use of recycled materials in architecture ergonomics in buildings and public design sustainable design for smart cities design for the aging population industrial design human scale in architecture and many more Based on the AHFE 2017 International Conference on Human Factors Sustainable Urban Planning and Infrastructure held on July 17-21 2017 in Los Angeles California USA this book by showing different perspectives on sustainability and ergonomics represents a useful source of information for designers in general urban engineers architects infrastructure professionals practitioners public
