UbiComp 2007: Ubiquitous Computing John Krumm,Gregory D. Abowd,Aruna Seneviratne,Thomas Strang,2007-09-14 The Ubiquitous Computing conference series provides the premier forum in which to present original research results in all areas relating to the design implementation app cation and evaluation of ubiquitous computing technologies It is a well established platform to introduce and discuss research that enables new capabilities appropriate security and privacy improved user experiences and simplified and powerful devel ment and deployment practices These proceedings contain the papers presented at the Ninth International Conf ence on Ubiquitous Computing UbiComp 2007 in Innsbruck Austria in September 2007 Our call for papers resulted in 150 submissions each of which was assigned to a primary and a secondary member of our Program Committee Every primary and secondary member was responsible for assigning one or more additional qualified reviewers with specific expertise in the field After double blind reviews and an online discussion we had a two day face to face meeting with 38 of the 40 Program C mittee members attending the PC meeting held just before the Pervasive 2007 conf ence in Toronto Canada in May 2007 We are grateful to Khai Truong Jeremy Knight and Alex Varshavsky of the University of Toronto for providing facilities and support for this meeting At the PC meeting about 80 of the submissions were in vidually and extensively discussed in one of the three subgroups sensors experiences and systems as well as in the calibration and decision panels The PC finally selected 29 papers for publication in these proceedings

In/visible War Jon Simons,John Louis Lucaites,2017-06-14 In Visible War addresses a paradox of twenty first century American warfare The contemporary visual American experience of war is ubiquitous and yet war is simultaneously invisible or absent we lack a lived sense that America is at war This paradox of in visibility concerns the gap between the experiences of war zones and the visual mediated experience of war in public popular culture which absents and renders invisible the former Large portions of the domestic public experience war only at a distance For these citizens war seems abstract or may even seem to have disappeared altogether due to a relative absence of visual images of casualties Perhaps even more significantly wars can be fought without sacrifice by the vast majority of Americans Yet the normalization of twenty first century war also renders it highly visible War is made visible through popular commercial mediated culture The spectacle of war occupies the contemporary public sphere in the forms of celebrations at athletic events and in films video games and other media coming together as MIME the Military Industrial Media Entertainment Network Human Factors in Privacy Research Nina Gerber,Alina Stöver,Karola Marky,2023-09-17 This book covers topics needed to be considered in research around usable privacy The book starts from a psychological perspective and introduces readers to basic behavioral theories and models that can explain end user privacy behavior including the privacy paradox on a theoretical level Subsequently an introduction to different study methods e g experiment survey interviews co creation used in usable privacy research is given Based on this different methodological aspects such as identifying appropriate questionnaires and applying User Centered

Design will be discussed Finally the book describes application areas for privacy research such as dark patterns and presents solutions for privacy protection e g regarding consent giving and PETs The book aims to bring together the different research approaches to the topic of usable privacy which often originate from computer science psychology and law and provide a methodologically sound basis for researchers who want to delve deeper into this topic This is an open access book   Are We There Yet? Susan Sessions Rugh,2008 An entertaining cultural history of the American family vacation during the height of its popularity from 1945 to 1973 Reveals the ways in which the ritual of the family road trip for most middle class Americans became a way of defining what it meant to be and become American   Better Living Through Reality TV Laurie Ouellette,James Hay,2008-01-29 Asserts that reality television is a cultural technology through which individuals and groups have come to monitor motivate improve transform and protect themselves in the name of freedom enterprise and personal responsibility   Soviet Military Power In A Changing World Susan L Clark,2019-06-04 Many people have been instrumental in helping see this book through to completion First I want to thank Robbin Laird not only for his professional encouragement over the years but especially for his suggestion to do this book in the first place Nor would this effort have been possible or nearly as enjoyable without the support and friendship of Susan McEachern I would also like to thank Jackie Evans for her assistance in helping to prepare the manuscript   Continuing Innovation in Information Technology National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine,Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences,Computer Science and Telecommunications Board,Committee on Continuing Innovation in Information Technology,2016-07-30 The 2012 National Research Council report Continuing Innovation in Information Technology illustrates how fundamental research in information technology IT conducted at industry and universities has led to the introduction of entirely new product categories that ultimately became billion dollar industries The central graphic from that report portrays and connects areas of major investment in basic research university based research and industry research and development the introduction of important commercial products resulting from this research billion dollar plus industries stemming from it and present day IT market segments and representative U S firms whose creation was stimulated by the decades long research At a workshop hosted by the Computer Science and Telecommunications Board on March 5 2015 leading academic and industry researchers and industrial technologists described key research and development results and their contributions and connections to new IT products and industries and illustrated these developments as overlays to the 2012 tire tracks graphic The principal goal of the workshop was to collect and make available to policy makers and members of the IT community first person narratives that illustrate the link between government investments in academic and industry research to the ultimate creation of new IT industries This report provides summaries of the workshop presentations organized into five broad themes 1 fueling the innovation pipeline 2 building a connected world 3 advancing the hardware foundation 4 developing smart machines and 5 people and computers and ends with a summary of remarks from the concluding panel discussion
