Paragraph-Writing Fred Newton Scott, 2017-11-27 Excerpt from Paragraph Writing A Rhetoric for Colleges If there is a measure of truth in what has here been urged it would appear that for certain periods in the student's development the paragraph as an example of structural unity offers peculiar advantages The nature of these advantages has already been suggested They are in brief as follows The paragraph being in its method practically identical with the essay exemplifies identical principles of structure It exemplifies these principles in small and convenient compass so that they are easily appreciable by the beginner Further while the writing of the paragraph exercises the student in the same elements of structure which would be brought to his attention were he drilled in the writing of essays he can write more paragraphs than he can write essays in the same length of time hence the character of the work may be made for him more varied About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Style Brian Ray, 2014-11-01 Style An Introduction to History Theory Research and Pedagogy conducts an in depth investigation into the long and complex evolution of style in the study of rhetoric and writing The theories research methods and pedagogies covered here offer a conception of style as more than decoration or correctness views that are still prevalent in many college settings as well as in public discourse

Essays on Classical Rhetoric and Modern Discourse Robert J. Connors, Lisa S. Ede, Andrea A. Lunsford, 1984 Eighteen essays by leading scholars in English speech communication education and philosophy explore the vitality of the classical rhetorical tradition and its influence on both contemporary discourse studies and the teaching of writing Some of the essays investigate the rhetorical and historical issues Others show the bearing of classical rhetoric on contemporary problems in composition thus blending theory and practice Com mon to the varied approaches and view points expressed in this volume is one central theme the 20th century revival of rhetoric entails a recovery of the clas sical tradition with its marriage of a rich and fully articulated theory with an equally efficacious practice A preface demonstrates the contribution of Ed ward P J Corbett to the 20th century re vival and a last chapter includes a bibli ography of his works

The Allyn & Bacon Sourcebook for College Writing Teachers James C. McDonald,1996 Designed for college writing teachers who are faced with teaching composition for the first time or re examining their teaching goals and methods The Allyn Bacon Sourcebook for College Writing Teachers is a collection of writings on important theories and pedagogies in composition studies The selections discuss a range of theories and approaches to teaching writing and present readers with a number of options for instruction rather than a single way to teach Written by some of today s foremost scholars and teachers the articles range from discussing how to integrate critical thinking and reading into writing instruction to methods for responding to and evaluating student writing to dealing with grammar and editing For those who teach writing
