Invisible machines. Collective action through digital space Edmund Zagorin,2018-07-12 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2011 in the subject Philosophy Miscellaneous grade Highest Honors University of Michigan language English abstract The past two decades have seen an explosion in activism organized through digital space From the early 90s efforts of the Zapatistas to build a global support network for a localist struggle to the recent tumultuous revolutions of the Arab Spring digital technology has enabled organizing for social change in ways that previous generations of activists could scarcely have imagined And yet is the ascendancy of digital activism truly that surprising As cultural interactions and materials are increasingly enacted online it is only to be expected that digital natives seize upon clickable social repertoires to articulate new political possibilities Rather than analyzing the effects of a particular platform or technology in isolation I examine the social dynamics that contribute to the dissemination of contentious frames and messages throughout digital space By examining the network dynamics of everyday online socializing I seek to elucidate some of the repertoires of contention through which digital activists have achieved critical mass These immanent dynamics of everyday online social interaction provide the basis for understanding how networked collectivities come to attach social significance to contentious ideas and then mobilize individuals for offline collective action I further argue that classical social science theories of group organizing are unable to account for the seemingly spontaneous and eruptive nature of digitally organized movements The difficulty I argue is not that theories of collective dissent are not empirically grounded but that they are complicit with institutional edifices of static knowledge production in ways that resist recognizing the emergence of novel collectivities In elaborating this point I initially focus on a case study of the 2008 demonstrations in Seoul South Korea over the Lee Administration s decision to lift the import ban on American beef These demonstrations offer a prime example of the ways in which digital movements do not call for us to create new theories in place of old but instead argue against the essentialist process of theorization itself They further show how thinking of activism as online versus offline tactics represents a false dichotomy since digital space augments supplements and motivates offline spaces of encounter Computerworld ,2009 The Wall Street Journal ,2009

Economic rationale for visual configuration of space for rent and tenaning decision in shopping malls Sumanta Deb,Keya Mitra,2016-12-21 Research Paper postgraduate from the year 2016 in the subject Art Architecture History of Construction grade 2 5 Indian Institute of Engineering Science and Technology Shibpur Indian Institute of Engineering Science and Technology language English abstract Organized retail formats are growing twice as fast as their traditional counterparts But in spite of that the mall management is concerned about the rising rate of vacancy leading to economic unsustainability The reason for high mall vacancy rates can be ascribed to faulty tenant placement and irrational rental plan Existing studies on the tenant mix decisions focus more on inter store externality and not on the spatial logic Moreover normal industry practice follows rule of thumb instead of any scientific approach A bid rent model for profit maximization of individual stores is solved to identify the relationship between area allocation and rental decision with the customer density at that point The customer density in turn depends on the accessibility and explained through visibility graph analysis and agent based simulation The findings support the superiority of configurational characteristic over metric distances A model for profit maximization of the entire shopping mall is proposed to explain the tenaning rental and anchor rent subsidization decisions based on logic of spatial configuration Space planning in this way can be considered as a tool for strategic decision making instead of an accommodator of functions Eclectic Magazine, and Monthly Edition of the Living Age John Holmes Agnew,Walter Hilliard Bidwell,1896 The Eclectic Magazine of Foreign Literature, Science, and Art ,1896 Inside Flyer ,2010 The Social Seat. An Urban Installation in the Age of the Internet of Things Lucas Agudiez Roitman,Michael Mondry,Tomoki Eto,Banny Banerjee,2017-03-07 Essay from the year 2013 in the subject Design Industry Graphics Fashion grade A Stanford University Hasso Plattner Institute of Design d school language English abstract People share spaces such as cafes airports libraries and classrooms for hours everyday Often times these people sitting right next to each other never even think to interact They almost always have shared interests some common ground on which they could interact The Social Seat helps people converse and connect in a easy interactive and playful way using a physical chair that indicates one s willingness to talk and common topics This paper will discuss how the concept came to fruition and how we researched the market to find consumer preferences and needs Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine ,1895 Wallace's Farmer ,2014
