

...and the optional Cruise Control (for Cruise Control, see "Cruise Control" in this section).

...up to the second stop to signal a right turn. Move the second stop to signal a left turn. When the turn is complete, the signal will cancel and the lever will return to the center position.

Signal

As with changing lanes, the steering wheel is not enough to cancel the turn signal. For convenience, the turn signal is moving the lever past zero for the first time. The turn will return to the center position.

The instrument panel is designed to flash to tell you if the front and rear turn signal lights are working. If the lights do not flash, check for a burned-out bulb. If the green light does not come on when you move the lever, the front and indicator bulb.

If you ordered a trailer towing option in which were added to attach the trailer lighting, a different type of indicator. In this case, the green light will continue to flash if a turn signal bulb burns out. Therefore, you must check the front and rear turn signal lights to be sure they are working.

Headlight Beam
