Weinstein, Anny B. De Boeck, Foreign Service Institute (U.S.), 1975 The text presents a broad sample of non literary Dutch in the form of advertisements and newspaper stories from the 1970s in the Netherlands and Belgium It should be used in conjunction with a conversational course of study Travel Writing in Dutch and German, 1790-1930 Alison E. Martin, Lut Missinne, Beatrix van Dam, 2017-01-06 This volume focuses on how travel writing contributed to cultural and intellectual exchange in and between the Dutch and German speaking regions from the 1790s to the twentieth century interwar period Drawing on a hitherto largely overlooked body of travelers whose work ranges across what is now Germany and Austria the Netherlands and Dutch speaking Belgium the Dutch East Indies and Suriname the contributors highlight the interrelations between the regional and the global and the role alterity plays in both spheres They therefore offer a transnational and transcultural perspective on the ways in which the foreign was mediated to audiences back home By combining a narrative perspective on travel writing with a socio historically contextualized approach essays emphasize the importance of textuality in travel literature as well as the self positioning of such accounts in their individual historical and political environments The first sustained analysis to focus specifically on these neighboring cultural and linguistic areas this collection demonstrates how topographies of knowledge were forged across these regions by an astonishingly diverse range of travelling individuals from professional scholars and writers to art dealers soldiers female explorers and scientific collectors The contributors address cultural aesthetic political and gendered aspects of travel writing drawing productively on other disciplines and areas of
