choices based only upon their own interests The second part of the book challenges the idea that a normative conception of distributive justice can be based on that traditional assumption i e that personal choices are not the subject matter of justice Thus Vandenbroucke questions the Rawlsian idea that the primary subject of a theory of justice is the basic structure of society and not the individual conduct of its citizens For a society to be really just the ethos of individual conduct has to serve justice Non mathematical readers can skip the formal model proposed in Chapter 3 and understand the rest of the book
