The Warehouse Alessandro Delfanti, 2021-10-20 Work hard have fun make history proclaims the slogan on the walls of Amazon's warehouses. This cheerful message hides a reality of digital surveillance, aggressive anti-union tactics and disciplinary layoffs. Reminiscent of the tumult of early industrial capitalism, the hundreds of thousands of workers who help Amazon fulfil consumers' desire are part of an experiment in changing the way we all work. In this book, Alessandro Delfanti takes readers inside Amazon's warehouses to show how technological advancements and managerial techniques subdue the workers rather than empower them. As seen in the sensors that track workers' every movement around the floor and algorithmic systems that re-route orders to circumvent worker sabotage, he looks at new technologies including robotic arms trained by humans and augmented reality goggles showing that their aim is to standardise measure and discipline human work rather than replace it. Despite its innovation, Amazon will always need living labour's flexibility and low cost. And as the warehouse is increasingly automated, worker discontent increases. Striking under the banner 'we are not robots', employees have shown that they are acutely aware of such contradictions. The only question remains: how long will it be until Amazon's empire collapses?

At what Cost Nicholas Freudenberg, 2021 An incisive and powerful investigation of corporate impact on human and planetary well-being. Freedom of choice lies at the heart of American society. Every day, individuals decide what to eat, which doctors to see, who to connect with online, and where to educate their children. Yet many Americans don't realize that these choices are illusory at best. By the start of the 21st century, every major industrial sector in the global economy was controlled by no more than five transnational corporations, and in about a third of these sectors, a single company accounted for more than 40 percent of global sales. The available options in food, healthcare, education, transportation, and even online presence are largely constructed by corporations whose sweeping influence have made them the public face and executive agents of 21st century capitalism. At What Cost confronts how globalization, financial speculation, monopolies, and control of science and technology have enhanced the ability of corporations and their allies to overwhelm influences of government, family, community, and faith. As corporations manipulate demand through skillful marketing and veto the choices that undermine their bottom line, free consumer choice has all but disappeared, and with it the personal protections guarding our collective health. At What Cost argues that the world created by 21st century capitalism is simply not fit to solve our most serious public health problems, from climate change to opioid addiction. However, author and public health expert Nicholas Freudenberg also shows that, though the road is steep, human and planetary well-being constitute a powerful, mobilizing idea for a new social movement, one that will restore the power of individual voice to our democracy. With impeccably detailed research and an eye towards a better future, At What Cost arms ordinary citizens, activists, and health professionals with an understanding of how we've arrived at the precipice and what we can do to ensure a healthier collective future.

Your Boss Is an Algorithm Antonio Aloisi, Valerio De Stefano, 2022-07-14 What effect do robots, algorithms and online platforms have on the world of work Using case studies and examples from across the EU the UK and the US this book provides a compass to navigate this technological transformation as well as the regulatory options available and proposes a new map for the era of radical digital advancements From platform work to the gig economy and the impact of artificial intelligence algorithmic management and digital surveillance on workplaces technology has overwhelming consequences for everyone's lives reshaping the labour market and straining social institutions Contrary to preliminary analyses forecasting the threat of human work obsolescence the book demonstrates that digital tools are more likely to replace managerial roles and intensify organisational processes in workplaces rather than opening the way for mass job displacement Can flexibility and protection be reconciled so that legal frameworks uphold innovation How can we address the pervasive power of AI enabled monitoring How likely is it that the gig economy model will emerge as a new organisational paradigm across sectors And what can social partners and political players do to adopt effective regulation Technology is never neutral It can and must be governed to ensure that progress favours the many Digital transformation can be an essential ally from the warehouse to the office but it must be tested in terms of social and political sustainability not only through the lenses of economic convenience Your Boss Is an Algorithm offers a guide to explore these new scenarios their promises and perils Legal Newsletters in Print ,2005

House of Commons - Home Affairs Committee: E-Crime - HC 70 Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Home Affairs Committee,2013 The threat of a cyber attack to the UK is so serious it is marked as a higher threat than a nuclear attack One can steal more on the internet than they can by robbing a bank and online criminals in 25 countries have chosen the UK as their number one target Astonishingly some are operating from EU countries If we don't have a 21st century response to this 21st century crime we will be letting those involved in these gangs off the hook After a 10 month inquiry the Committee concluded that a dedicated state of the art espionage response team should be established so that attacks can be immediately reported Banks must be required to report all e crime fraud to law enforcement it is alarmed that CEOP is having its budget cut by 10% over 4 years its experienced Chief Executive is leaving and it could lose its laser like focus when merged with the National Crime Agency it is still too easy for people to access inappropriate online content and those responsible need to take stronger action to remove such content the Government should draw up a mandatory code of conduct with them to remove material which breaches acceptable standards the DPP should review sentencing guidance and ensure e criminals receive the same sentences as if they had stolen the same amount of money or data offline the Government should look at setting up a similar organisation to the Internet Watch Foundation focused on reporting and removing online terrorist content    Cybercrime United States.
