Ebook: Advertising and Promotion

Belch, 2014-09-16 Ebook Advertising and Promotion Investment Promotion Agencies and Foreign Direct Investment

Martin G. Kaspar, 2025-09-23 This book discusses the often underestimated role of investment promotion agencies IPAs in attracting foreign direct investment FDI Analysing the subject not only along theoretical lines and from the perspective of IPAs and governments but also through the eyes of practitioners and corporate investors it charts a more holistic picture of the FDI decision making process and its subsequent implementation An in depth analysis of national and regional IPA structures and investment promotion practises provides the reader with a broad understanding of state of the art investment promotion By adding the corporate managers perspective the reader gets a first hand impression of how widely known IPAs are in the corporate world which IPA services are sought after and which are considered less useful For corporate managers FDI projects are complex and often risky and to understand their expectations towards IPAs should further the current policy debate Given the significant sums of money spent each year on FDI incentives and given that the fortunes of nation states can be turned around on FDI as Ireland and Singapore have conclusively demonstrated a more grounded analysis of investment policies and promotion strategies is increasingly taking centre stage in policy debate The book fills a gap by providing operationally useful answers to corporate managers and thereby also furthering our understanding of FDI decision making which in turn allows governments to align their policy offerings This book is therefore a useful resource for students and researchers of international economics and business and political economy as well as policymakers Investment Promotion officials and corporate managers engaged in FDI projects

Providing Actionable Recommendations Paul

Marx, 2013 Recommender systems RS are intended to assist consumers by making choices from a large scope of items By recommending items with a high likelihood of suiting a consumer's needs or preferences they are able to considerably mitigate the information overload problem at the user's side thus increasing their trust in satisfaction with and loyalty to RS providers such as online shops internet music catalogs and online DVD rental services However recommendations are prone to errors and often fail to address consumers context specific needs Explanations of the underlying reasons behind recommendations can allow users to handle algorithmic errors in recommendations and to better judge their suitability for the user's current decision contexts thus increasing the choice efficiency and effectiveness The latter in turn increases the user's acceptance of and satisfaction with RS as well as it positively affects consumer's trust in loyalty to and credibility of RS providers However in order for these benefits of explanation facilities to surface they should explain the recommendations in such terms that the consumers themselves use when evaluating their choices The latter sets restrictions upon recommendation algorithms constraining them with respect to how recommendations should be produced and what information they should rely on This interaction between RS and explanation facilities however was not covered by recent research on RS Therefore the aim of the current thesis is to narrow this gap and to develop a recommendation technique that accounts for the concurrent objectives of RS i.e. a method which is capable of providing both accurately predicted recommendations and actionable explanations of the reasons behind them so that the recommendation process is aligned with the user preference structures
