Oblomov Penguin Classics:

Penguin Classics Introduction to Oblomov by Ivan Aleksandrovich Goncharov (Penguin Classics) David Magarshack,2005 Oblomov Ivan Goncharov,2005-03-31 Ilya Ilyich Oblomov is a member of Russia's dying aristocracy a man so lazy that he has given up his job in the Civil Service neglected his books insulted his friends and found himself in debt Too apathetic to do anything about his problems he lives in a grubby crumbling apartment waited on by Zakhar his equally idle servant Terrified by the bustle and activity necessary to participate in the real world Oblomov manages to avoid work postpone change and finally risks losing the love of his life Written with sympathetic humour and compassion Oblomov made Goncharov famous throughout Russia on its publication in 1859 as readers saw in this story of a man whose defining characteristic is indolence the portrait of an entire class in decline Penguin Classics Penguin (Firm),2001 I Want to Live Nina Lugovskaya,Nina Lugovskaya,2008 Does that boy like me Why are my sisters so mean Does anyone think I'm pretty Will my father be arrested These were the everyday concerns of thirteen year old Moscow schoolgirl Nina Lugovskaya who began to write a diary in 1932 Her indignant outbursts against the brutal raids and purges of Stalin's terror appear alongside the more typical adolescent worries about girlfriends boys parties and homework For five years Nina scribbled down her most intimate thoughts and dreams including her ambition one day to become a writer Then in 1937 the NKVD Stalin's secret police ransacked Nina's home and discovered her diary Nina's criticism of the regime provided sufficient evidence for the charge of treason and she her mother and two sisters were sentenced to five years hard labour in the Gulag followed by seven years exile in Siberia Recently Nina's diary was discovered in the KGB archives complete with the original passages underlined by the secret police Like Anne Frank's diary this journal poignantly reveals life at a time of political upheaval betrayal and repression through the eyes of an innocent The Political and Social Thought of F.M. Dostoevsky Stephen Kirby Carter,2014-09-19 This study concentrates on The Devils but also places this novel in the total context of Dostoevsky's work Also considered is the life and work of T N Granovsky who is satirised along with Turgenev in the novel and thus offers a useful basis on which to delineate the contours of Dostoevsky's thought First published in 1991 the book begins from the belief that his genius embodies much of what is typical of Russian life his boundless vitality his extremism his lack of empiricism and economy To understand Dostoevsky is therefore somehow to understand Russia The author concludes that Dostoevsky badly misunderstood Western liberalism but grappled very well with the psychology of the radical terrorist This is explained with reference to his intellectual revolution which is seen as consisting of six stages from his early works of the 1840s Penguin Classics Complete Annotated Catalog Penguin Books,2003 The Rough Guide to Classic Novels Simon Mason,2008-05 Covering some of the world's greatest novels from Don Quixote to Orhan Pamuk's Snow this guide comes complete with recommendations of the best editions and translations for every genre Oblomov ,1981 The Private Library ,1984 Oblomov Ivan Aleksandrovič Gončarov,1950 Rich Noble, Poor Noble M. Coastlines ,1959    Tapestry Of My Mother's Life Malve von Hassell,2022-02-04 Tapestry Of My Mother's Life is a biographical account of a woman coming of age in Germany during the 1930s Malve von Hassell explores her mother's life through the fragmented lens of transmitted memory and its impact on the second generation Born at her grandfather's house in Farther Pomerania 1923 Christa von Hassell had to contend with the increasing and pervasive impact of the Nazi regime As the child of a German army officer she moved with her parents often Through boarding school university marriage the Second World War life under Soviet occupation and a new beginning in the West eventually in America the biography is an incredible emotional journey of childhood survival and relationships The portrayal of Christa's life also focuses on the role of memory shaped distorted and realigned in the continual process of telling stories of the past in conjunction with silence about many aspects Children of women who shared similar experiences and life trajectories struggled with the challenge of learning about their parents' lives during extraordinary times confounded by a wealth of stories on the one hand and a seemingly impenetrable veil of silence on the other Working through such memorabilia as well as the tales of the past can offer ways in which one can come to terms with the inherited detritus of thoughts and memories As such this account of the life of a unique and complex individual has also wider relevance in that it addresses age old questions of the relationship between one generation and the next
