New Education Philanthropy Educational Innovations:

The New Education Philanthropy Frederick M. Hess, Jeffrey R. Henig, 2015 Philanthropic foundations play an increasingly influential role in education research policy and practice yet this sector has been subject to little research informed analysis The New Education Philanthropy examines the shifting role of education philanthropy over the last decade offering an unprecedented look behind the scenes at the major foundations Gates Broad Walton and Lumina among others that are increasingly aggressive and strategic in their use of funds This remarkable volume provides penetrating analyses of every corner of the changing education landscape from a range of philosophical perspectives rarely juxtaposed in today's polarized discourse The findings are both encouraging and disturbing The New Education Philanthropy is essential reading for all parties in the debate over education Dale Russakoff author of The Prize Who's in Charge of America's Schools Hess Henig and the contributing authors have made a valuable contribution to the dialogue about the appropriate role of wealthy donors in K-12 education Collectively The New Education Philanthropy gets it right A couple of billion dollars invested in reform will never leverage overnight transformation but it can have a profound impact worth studying Jim Blew president StudentsFirst and former advisor The Walton Family Foundation Ten years ago big foundations confronted the fact that philanthropic dollars were mere buckets into a sea of public spending on education and many shifted their strategies This exemplary volume gathers together a diverse group of exceptional authors to explore the recent and more muscular philanthropic approach Rob Reich professor of political science Stanford University and faculty codirector the Stanford Center on Philanthropy and Civil Society The New Education Philanthropy provides a broad based and penetrating look at the role of philanthropy in education reform Adam Gamoran president William T Grant Foundation Frederick M Hess is a resident scholar and director of education policy studies at the American Enterprise Institute Jeffrey R Henig is a professor of political science and education at Teachers College at Columbia University where he also serves as chair of the Department of Education Policy and Social Analysis The New Education Philanthropy is a volume in the Educational Innovations series

Women and Philanthropy in Education Andrea Walton, 2005-02-15 This book illuminates the philanthropic impulse that has influenced women's education and its place in the broader history of philanthropy in America Contributing to the history of women education and philanthropy the book shows how voluntary activity and home grown educational enterprise were as important as big donors in the development of philanthropy The essays in Women and Philanthropy in Education are generally concerned with local rather than national effects of philanthropy and the giving of time rather than monetary support Many of the essays focus on the individual lives of female philanthropists Olivia Sage Martha Berry and teachers Tsuda Umeko Catharine Beecher offering personal portraits of philanthropy in the 19th and 20th centuries These stories provide evidence of the key role played by women in the development of philanthropy and its importance to the education of women Philanthropic and Nonprofit Studies Dwight F Burlingame and David C Hammack editors Philanthropy and Education E. Thümler, N. Bögelein, A. Beller, H. Anheier, 2014-02-06 Philanthropic foundations play an increasingly important role in attempts to enhance the performance of school systems Based on case studies from Germany Switzerland and the US this book develops an innovative model of effective education philanthropy for successfully tackling problems in the complex field of education

Entrepreneurs Creating Educational Innovation Laura Hougaz, 2019-09-18 This book examines the contribution of entrepreneurs in diversifying and redefining the tertiary education landscape in Australia The book explores how and why entrepreneurs have decided to enter a sector which traditionally has been predominated by public providers The book focuses on ways in which entrepreneurs have identified and engaged with opportunities in tertiary education and created new educational organisations that are also at the same time new businesses In so doing they have disrupted the tertiary education sector and their actions are having a major impact on the society economy and educational profile of Australia and around the world

Innovations in Secondary Education Glenys G. Unruh, William Marvin Alexander, 1974

Shaping Education Policy Douglas E. Mitchell, Dorothy Shipps, Robert L. Crowson, 2017-09-27 Shaping Education Policy is a comprehensive overview of education politics and policy which provides conceptual guideposts for future policy development and strategies for change Leading scholars explore the interacting social processes and the dynamics of power politics as they intersect with democratic ideals and shape school performance Chapters cover major themes that have influenced education including the Civil Rights Movement federal involvement the accountability movement family choice and development of nationalization and globalization This edited collection examines how education policy in the United States has evolved over the last several decades and how the resulting policies are affecting schools and the children who attend them This important book is a necessary resource for understanding the evolution current status and possibilities of educational policy and politics

Youth Exclusion and Empowerment in the Contemporary Global Order Oláyinká Àkànlé, 2022-08-10 The first volume of Youth Exclusion and Empowerment in the Contemporary Global Order focuses particularly on contexts of economic educational and governance concerns that confront youths globally the complex consequences of these issues their experience of exclusion and sustainable pathways forward

Making Up Our Mind Sigal R. Ben-Porath, Michael C. Johanek, 2019-04-24 If free market advocates had total control over education policy would the shared public system of education collapse Would school choice revitalize schooling with its innovative force With proliferating charters and voucher schemes would the United States finally make a dramatic break with its past and expand parental choice Those are not only the wrong questions they re the wrong premises argue philosopher Sigal R Ben Porath and historian Michael C Johanek in Making Up Our Mind Market driven school choices aren t new They predate the republic and for generations parents have chosen to educate their children through an evolving mix of publicly supported private charitable and entrepreneurial enterprises The question is not whether to have school choice It is how we will regulate who has which choices in our mixed market for schooling and what we as a nation hope to accomplish with that mix of choices

Looking beyond the simplistic divide between those who oppose government intervention and those who support public education the authors make the case for a structured landscape of choice in schooling one that protects the interests of children and of society while also identifying key shared values on which a broadly acceptable policy could rest
