Interdisciplinary Interactions in Ceramic Art, 2025-10-15 Fire Hazards: Socio-economic and Regional Issues Jesús Rodrigo-Comino, Luca Salvati, 2024-03-30 The open access book aims to show the readers novel relevant and reproducible power of synergistic collaborations between European research groups and stakeholders with the objective to synthesize the existing knowledge and expertise about fire management and hazard and defining a concerted research agenda that promotes an integrated approach to create fire resilient landscapes taking into account biological biochemical and physical but also socio economic historical geographical sociological perception and policy constraints This is an urgent societal need due to the expected further intensification and geographical spreading of wildfire regimes under Global Change Fire has been part of the Earth's System for the last 400 million years and humans are the sole species that controls and manages fire We have used fire for over a million years both as hunter gatherers managing the landscape with fire and as farmers using fire as a low cost efficient and ecological tool for clearing and maintaining the productivity of the land Fire has been highlighted as the most influential element in the development of human societies The increase in prolonged dry and hot periods observed in many regions of the world is exacerbating the risk of fire The causes of increased fire risk are not only linked to climate change but are also a consequence of economic and social changes and political decisions Over the past few decades many countries rural areas have seen significant depopulation and a reduction in land management as residents moved to cities or even other countries in search of work The resulting rural depopulation has led to revegetation of the abandoned agricultural land which favors fire spread The enhanced risk of fires is moving beyond the capacity of even the best funded wildland firefighting teams and therefore calls for the development of new approaches to fire management that are key nowadays at different scales Instead of focusing primarily on increasing firefighting capabilities a more effective approach is needed that focuses on long term fire prevention through vegetation management by reducing fuel load or managing fuel type and fuel continuity at a landscape level FIRElinks COST Action CA18135 is developing the EU spanning network of scientists and practitioners involved in forest fire research and land management with backgrounds such as fire dynamics fire risk management fire effects on vegetation fauna soil and water and socio economic historical geographical political perception and land management approaches Among the different Working Groups number 5 is aimed to connect communities from different scientific and geographic backgrounds allowing the discussion of different experiences and the emergence of new approaches to fire research human management regional issues and socio economic aspects Economic and Management Issues in Retrospect and Prospect Eszter Wirth, Orhan Simsek, Şükrü Apaydın, 2018-11-30 Proceedings of the Sixth International Conference on Language, Literature, Culture, and Education \(ICOLLITE 2022\) Nuria Haristiani, Yulianeta Yulianeta, Yanti Wirza, Wawan Gunawan, Ari Arifin Danuwijaya, Eri Kurniawan, Dante Darmawangsa, Suharno Suharno, Nia Nafisah, Ernie Dyah Imperiani, 2023-02-10 This is an open access book The rapid advancement of technology has created new civilization in this digital era which affects almost all aspects of life including language literature culture and education. The digital era brings opportunities as well as challenges that people have to deal with. Thus some adjustments need to be done in order to keep up with those changes. Studies on language literature culture and education need to be continuously conducted and developed to revitalize those aspects in facing the dynamic changes of the digital era. In relation to this Faculty of Language and Literature Education Universitas Pendidikan Indonesia FPBS UPI hosts this year's International Conference on Language Literature and Culture ICOLLITE with the theme Revitalization of Language Literature Culture and Education in the Digital Era as a forum for experts and professionals to share their research ideas and experiences on this issue. Presenters and participants are welcome to discuss and disseminate current issues and offer solutions to the challenges of our time. Discussions on current trends in digital literacies are expected to pave way to learn from each other for betterment as one big society of humankind regardless of their social economic and cultural backgrounds.

Water and Urban Development Paradigms Jan Feyen, Kelly Shannon, Matthew Neville, 2008-09-03. Communication across and integration of disciplines in the urban water sector seems today more imperative than ever before. Water is a strategic and shrinking resource. It is probably the world's most valuable resource and clean water has even been touted as the next oil. Control of water from access to management has always been a
