

A Typical Year in the NFL

The National Football League, commonly known as the NFL, is the United States' top level American football competition. The league has thirty-two teams and its schedule includes games in 18 two-hour and seventy-two games into every regular season. Some of these matchups are now also played in other parts of the world, such as Mexico, the United Kingdom, Germany and South America. In order to keep the league running smoothly, games and events take place throughout the year.

Throughout the regular season, each team will play numerous games, most of them take place on Tuesday afternoons (Tues 90). You will have one 'bye week' (when they don't play a game) included in their schedule as players can not work another one more factor.

In January, the regular season reaches its end and is followed by the playoffs, where the best teams take part in playoff and championship games. However, the league's highlight and its final game is Super Bowl, which usually takes place in February.
