Injury Report Phonics Practice Update:

European Report on Child Injury Prevention Dinesh Sethi, World Health Organization. Regional Office for Europe, 2008 Injuries are a leading cause of death and disability in children. This report presents evidence on how they can be prevented and calls for greater commitment and action from policy makers and practitioners to decrease the burden. Every year unintentional injuries kill nearly 42 000 children and young people under the age of 20 in the WHO European Region. Injuries are the leading cause of death among those aged 5-19 years and 5 out of 6 of these deaths occur in low and middle income countries. Irrespective of country income the burden falls disproportionately on children from the most disadvantaged groups. The leading types of unintentional injuries are road traffic injuries, drowning, poisoning, burns and falls. All injury types have similar main causes and socioeconomic and environmental determinants. Children are particularly vulnerable to injuries and need special consideration to safeguard their rights to health and safe environments free from injury. This report companion to the World Report on Child Injury Prevention presents the evidence on both the great potential for injury prevention and the effectiveness and value for money of measures already in use in European countries with low injury mortality. It shows why health systems and particularly programs for child health throughout the WHO European Region should give priority to preventing and controlling child injury.

Prevention Practice Catherine Rush Thompson, 2007 The all encompassing Prevention Practice: A Physical Therapist's Guide to Health, Fitness and Wellness successfully details the impact health promotion, health protection and the prevention of illness and disability have on increasing the quality and length of a healthy life for individuals across the lifespan. Dr Catherine Thompson along with eight contributors all with diverse backgrounds in physical therapy, rehabilitation and healthcare present the fundamental health, fitness and wellness concepts that are critical for providing preventive care to healthy, impaired and at risk populations as outlined in the Guide to Physical Therapist Practice and Healthy People 2010. Prevention Practice includes screening tools for determining risk factors associated with common medical problems as well as resources for implementing prevention practice in clinical and community based settings including planning and marketing a prevention practice. Additionally this unique guide offers suggestions for providing appropriate interventions, consultation, referral, education resources and program development. Some topics covered include:

- Overview of holistic versus traditional medicine
- A comparison of isometric, isotonic and isokinetic exercises
- Comprehensive physical health screening
- Musculoskeletal, neuromuscular, cardiopulmonary and integumentary impairments and developmental disabilities
- Tips, letters and "dorsquo;s and "dorsquo;ts" for providing advocacy to those in need of guidance
- Perfect for clinicians, students, allied health professionals, rehabilitation specialists, physical medicine specialists and recreation therapists
- Prevention Practice is a valuable resource for everyone in the areas of health, fitness and wellness
- Additional features:

 - Behavioral Risk Factor Surveillance table
 - Lifestyle Behaviors Screening questionnaire
 - Pathology specific signs and symptoms
 - Women's health issues
 - Risk of injury based upon age gender and race bull Nutrition screening for older adults Employment Practices Update ,2007
