Parris Island Eugene Alvarez, 2002 Located near the Palmetto State's historic city of Beaufort the United States Marine Corps Recruit Depot Parris Island South Carolina is one of the world's most famous military bases Having trained Marine recruits since World War I the base is the oldest major post of the Marine Corps It is also the first base commissioned exclusively to train United States Marines and therefore may truly be called The Cradle of the Corps Parris Island takes the reader on a visual journey through documented photographs that highlight the base's touchstones Before the American Revolution the island was partially owned by Col Alexander Parris who became the island's namesake Plantations flourished on Parris Island until the end of the War between the States A small detachment of Marines first arrived in the late 1800s It was not until 1915 however that the Marines arrived for good Since then the base has rapidly expanded first during World War I and more so during World War II Over the years much of the physical appearance of the base has changed yet through this collection of photographs former Parris Island Marines will have a chance to relive some of their memories while new recruits can watch the progression of their base unfold Parris Island: Once a Recruit Always a Marine Eugene Alvarez Phd, 2007-07 Here for the first time author and former Parris Island drill instructor Eugene Alvarez records the training and tough physical and mental challenges that have helped to churn thousands of Marines out of Parris Island South Carolina for nearly a century Drawn from first hand accounts of recruits themselves the memories and recollections in these pages are humorous sad profane and enlightening describing a training program that on first encounter often appears insane But the results are clear a disciplined Marine with a proud history that he or she carries proudly in peace time or war The Leatherneck, 1996 LIFE, 1972-11-24 LIFE Magazine is the treasured photographic magazine that chronicled the 20th Century It now lives on at LIFE.com the largest most amazing collection of professional photography on the internet Users can browse search and view photos of today's people and events They have free access to share print and post images for personal use Marine Corps Gazette, 1944 The Marine Corps Gazette, 1976 Marines, 1995 Women Marines Association, 1992 The Marine William Richard White, Ben Wofford, 2002 The story of Bill White who served as a telephone wireman with the 1st Marine Division on Guadalcanal and battled cancer fifty years later Fight Like a Girl Kate Germano, Kelly Kennedy, 2018-04-03 One woman's professional battle against systemic gender bias in the Marines and the lessons it holds for all of us The Marine Corps continues to be the only service where men and women train separately in boot camp or basic training This segregation negatively affects interaction with male marines later on and lower expectations of female recruits are actively maintained and encouraged But Lieutenant Colonel Kate Germano arrived at the Fourth Recruit Training Battalion at Parris Island which exclusively trains female recruits convinced that if she expected more of the women just coming into Corps she could raise historically low standards for female performance and make women better Marines And after one year shooting qualifications of the women under her command equaled those of men injuries had decreased and unit morale had noticeably improved Then the Marines fired her This is the story of Germano s struggle to achieve equality of performance and opportunity for female Marines against an entrenched male dominated status quo It is also a universal tale of the effects of systemic gender bias Germano charges that the men above her in the chain of command were too invested in perpetuating the subordinate role of women in the Corps to allow her to prove that the female Marine can be equal to her male counterpart She notes that the Marine Corps 35 million gender integration study which shows that all male squads perform at a higher level than mixed male female squads flies in the face of the results she demonstrated with the all female Fourth Battalion and raises questions about the Marine Corps willingness to let women succeed At a time when women are fighting sexism and systemic bias in many sectors of society Germano s experience has wide ranging implications and lessons not just for the military but also for corporate America the labor force education and government
