Pdf Early Childhood Play Matters Intentional:

Early Childhood Play Matters Kathy Walker, Shona Bass, 2015-11-01 Play based learning has long been a means of facilitating teaching and learning in the early childhood years. The Walker Learning Approach, an Australian designed evidence-based play pedagogy, provides a solid base and foundation for intentional and responsive teaching in the early years. The program's systems and practices support teams of early childhood educators in a consistent approach that ensures continuity and predictability for children, educators, and families. Early Childhood Play Matters provides guidance and many practical ideas on implementing the Walker Learning Approach within early childhood learning practices. Topics include intentional teaching, how to minimise time spent on planning and documentation while producing clinical and professional records, how to set up open-ended play learning experiences to promote skills, how to scaffold with intention and purpose for learning, how to communicate effectively as an educator, how to honour and build relationships with children and families. The book also includes organisational ideas and resources, a full colour section of photographs, templates for planning, assessment, and reporting activities, and a bibliography for further reference. Early Childhood Play Matters digital resources include Daily Weekly Record Sheet, Individual observation and planning record, IOPR Statement of intent, Early Childhood Education generic planning indicator. Early Childhood Play Matters concentrates on the most formative years of education, birth to six years of age, with intentional, rich, and rigorous play-based opportunities for young children. It builds upon the successful work that Shona Bass and Kathy Walker have achieved in play-based curriculum in the early and primary years nationally and internationally.

Educating for Humanity Neil Tucker, 2025-03-11 This book explores the international landscape of educational scholarship, policy, and practice. Tucker argues there is a fundamental aim for world education: It is to educate complete human beings in all their dimensions such that they become the best persons they can be and participate fully in the human story. Tucker asks: What is the world of education for? What is it that early childhood centers, schools, and local communities are meant to do for children and their learning? Representing a decade of research, the text examines the most common concepts of the purposes of education, human nature, and learning offered by scholars, international authorities, and pedagogies, nations, education organizations, neuroscience, early childhood educators, and individual schools. To educate for humanity, Tucker provides a complete concept of holistic education of whole child and holistic learning for a whole world. The book is an essential resource for those involved in the world of education: teachers, university administrators, school authorities, policy makers, and educational organizations. Parents and community members with a strong interest in the education of all children will also find much that is informative and challenging to think about.

Supporting Early Childhood Practice Through Difficult Times Ute Ward, 2024-08-28 Supporting Early Childhood Practice Through Difficult Times encourages early childhood students and practitioners to take stock of current practices and pedagogies in light of challenges like the COVID-19 pandemic, ecological concerns, and regulatory pressures. The contributions from various scholars and practitioners present a range of theoretical concepts as well as innovative practice examples inviting deep reflection on your own beliefs and attitudes. They examine and envisage different ways of working with and for young children their families and communities for a better future. Chapters in this timely book include experts from around the globe examining key issues in early childhood education. The first section questions the increasing digitalisation in nurseries and pre schools and its impact on staff members parents and children. The second section focuses on workforce development management systems and the role of parents in policymaking. The third section showcases innovative pedagogical approaches looking beyond widely accepted early learning goals assessments and curricula to develop inclusive environments that foster all children's development and learning. Lastly the fourth section steps back from day to day practice and considers what concern for the environment social justice and posthumanism means for early childhood education and pedagogy. This book will be a key resource for early childhood education and care practitioners graduate students policymakers and researchers facilitating the step from the here and now to revised future practice and policy that will enable all children to flourish.

Child Life Assessment Kathryn Cantrell,Cara Sisk,Brittany Wittenberg Camp,2024-10-11 This textbook the first to focus on child life assessment educates seasoned child life specialists and child life students about the significant impact that robust psychosocial assessments have on child life interventions for children and families coping with hospitalization chronic illness and life transitions. Child life specialists engage in a cyclical process of assessment planning intervention and evaluation to support healthy development and coping. The authors guide readers through current evidence based child life assessment practices and propose future directions for the growing child life profession. The book opens with chapters discussing the foundations of child life assessment including its history moves to tools and approaches then considers specific settings and populations and concludes with future directions for the profession. Case examples and professional perspectives make explicit assessment applications to child life practice.

Early Childhood Play Matters Shona Lee Bass,Kathy Walker,2016 An Interdisciplinary Approach to Early Childhood Education and Care Susanne Garvis,Matthew Manning,2017-02-03 An Interdisciplinary Approach to Early Childhood Education and Care explores early childhood education and care in Australia from a variety of perspectives highlighting the complexity of working within the field and the need for a truly interdisciplinary approach. It argues that only a holistic understanding of each perspective will allow a clear future for early childhood education within Australia and that all government parties should provide better outcomes around policy and provision to ensure the support and development of the sector. Chapters offer insights into how children and families are positioned in educational reform by examining current government policy as well as individual and collective initiatives. Key paradigms considered include positivist behavioural developmental economic sociocultural and postmodern models. Garvis and Manning identify challenges to the field and propose improvements needed to develop an interdisciplinary approach to help close the disadvantage gap on educational outcomes. With recommendations aimed at stakeholders within different disciplines it is hoped that this book will encourage significant improvements to early childhood education and care within Australia Providing important insights into the landscape of early childhood education and care this book will promote new ways of thinking of policy and provision development for the future As such it will be of interest to researchers academics and postgraduate students in the fields of early years education education policy and politics and sociology of education as well as those studying childcare alongside economics criminology and sociology Learning and Teaching in Early Childhood Wendy Boyd,Nicole Green,Jessie Jovanovic,2021-08-02 Learning and Teaching in Early Childhood
